6 Others Under Arrest In Venezuela

Police Hold 'Mastermind' In Kidnaping Of Colonel

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)— Police held today a society artist they said masterminded the kidnaping of U.S. Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Smolen. They said six other members of the Castroite - Communist kidnap gang also were under arrest.

Luis Vera Bomez, director general of the Interior Ministry, said Angel Luque, 30, a Spanish-born abstract painter, was "the brains of the kidnaping." He said Luque's littered two-room studio had been used to hide Smolen during the 86 hours the gang held him.

Gomez said Luque's studio also was used to hide Argentine soccer star Alfredo Distefano in another propaganda kidnaping by the Red underground last year.

Police said they suspect Luque also was connected with the kidnaping of American Army Col. James Chenault last November.

They also thought he might have been involved in the theft of five French impressionist paintings valued at $650,000 in January 1963.

Distefano and Chenault were released unharmed and the paintings were recovered.

Smolen, 45, of Chandler, Ariz., was released unharmed Monday night after two of the gang were arrested. The arrests of three other gunmen accused of abducting Smolen and of Luque and his wife, Titania, identified as a Russian or Yugoslav, came Tuesday.

Police said Smolen, a World War II combat pilot who is deputy chief of a U.S. Air Force mission in Venezuela, identified one of his captors.

Security Police Chief J. J. Patino Gonzalez said his men learned on Sunday that Smolen was being held in Luque's studio but did not move in for fear that shooting would follow and the American would be hurt.

Luque, a slender man of medium height, was arrested with his wife in the studio. Their penthouse residence is half a block from Smolen's residence, where the colonel was grabbed as he left for work Friday.

UAW, AMC In Accord On Some Issues

DETROIT (AP) — Moving toward a strike deadline less than 48 hours away, American Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers had reached agreement or near-agreement today on major economic issues.

But on the No. 1 question they were poles apart. That is: Will their new contract carry forward the auto industry's only profit-sharing plan?

Edward L. Cushman, AMC vice president who proposed and got profit sharing in 1961, told newsmen he feels "profit sharing is still dead" so far as any new contract is concerned.

Douglas Fraser, the UAW's American Motors department chief, said: "We think it is still alive. We'll know by Thursday midnight."

Economic settlements parallel those in national contracts already reached by the UAW with the automotive big three — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

AMC says the union is demanding the same money package it got from the Big Three plus profit sharing. It also says the union is unwilling to gamble possible wage gains in event of a profitless year.

The UAW has threatened to call out its 25,000 AMC production workers at midnight Thursday if there is no new national contract by that time.

This strike threat came on top of a nationwide walkout at General Motors plants 20 days ago, which still has the world's No. 1 automaker shut down. The strike stems from local-level issues.

Humphrey Scheduled To Speak In Aliquippa

Sen. Hubert Humphrey will speak in Aliquippa Thursday afternoon and Eli Corak of Midland, Beaver County commissioner, said the Democratic vice presidential candidate will make what was described as a "major address."

He is scheduled to arrive following a stop at Pittsburgh, and will make his 30-minute address from a platform in the Misco parking lot on Franklin Ave.

Corak, who will preside, said Humphrey will go directly to Greater Pittsburgh Airport following his address to continue his campaign elsewhere.

Truman Has Fall At Home; Hospitalized

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry S. Truman had planned to hold a news conference today, but instead the 80-year-old former president was in Research Hospital nursing two cracked ribs and a banged-up right eye.

He fell into a bathtub Tuesday at the big old Truman home in nearby Independence. He told Dr. Wallace Graham, his physician since he went to the White House in 1945, that the bath mat slipped as he was getting ready to bathe.

A severe cut over his right eye required stitches. His glasses shattered and sliced his right eyelid in several places. He had bruises on the right eyebrow and forehead.

After an ambulance trip to the hospital, some patching in the emergency room and X-rays, Truman was pronounced in satisfactory condition.

Robert E. Adams, executive director of the hospital, said Truman was alert, cheerful, fully conscious and joking. Adams said the eye wasn't a full-blown shiner but showed a lot of discoloration.

The hospital posted him as "satisfactory, resting easily" through the night.

Dr. Graham said there was nothing to indicate Truman had a fainting or dizzy spell.

"He's all right, there's nothing serious about it at all," Mrs. Truman said in a telephone conversation with their daughter, Mrs. Clifton Daniel, in New York.

The former president did not disclose the purpose of the news conference he had called for today, but its timing coincided with Sen. Barry Goldwater's appearance in Kansas City.

Truman was 80 on May 8 and his activities have been at a minimum since that round of celebrating. He was an elected delegate to the Democratic National Convention in August but did not go. An illness kept him from the dedication of the George C. Marshall Memorial Library at Lexington, Va., in May. But he appeared at a Kansas City rally with Sen. Hubert Humphrey late in September.

He worked at his Truman Library office in Independence Tuesday and was driven home shortly after 2 p.m. He fell about two hours later.

Thousands In Cuba Flee Hurricane

Florida Keys, U.S. Mainland In Path Of Roaring Isbell

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Isbell struck a savage blow at Cuba's Pinar del Rio Province, drove thousands of Cuban families from their homes, and roared on today toward the Florida Keys and the U.S. mainland.

Havana Radio said houses and buildings collapsed under the battering of 100-mile-an-hour wind, rain and tide in Cuba's westernmost province.

Only one death, a child, was mentioned in broadcasts monitored in Miami, but they indicated that Isbell may have finished a job started by Hurricane Hilda in August — destruction of Cuba's second biggest money crop, tobacco.

Havana itself, the radio said, "will be battered by howling winds and torrential rains" before the hurricane is through with Cuba.

The Miami Weather Bureau said the storm's eye would pass through the 70-mile stretch of water between Key West and the Dry Tortugas.

Gathering constantly greater strength from warm Gulf waters, Isbell was expected to crash into the southwest Florida Gulf Coast tonight and sweep across the Everglades to the Atlantic side.

San Juan y Martinez, Cuba, site of the main plantations which produce Cuba's famous tobacco, was heavily damaged.

It was the second straight year that Fidel Castro's faltering economy had been staggered by tropical storms. Last year, Hurricane Flora stalled over the island for four terrible days, destroying whole towns, villages and crops.

Earlier this year, Hurricanes Hilda and Cleo had dealt heavy blows to sugar, tobacco and other crops and to the island's livestock.

A Weather Bureau bulletin at 8 a.m. (EST) placed the storm center about 60 miles west-southwest of Key West and 200 miles southwest of Miami. The storm had speeded up to 14 miles an hour forward movement.

Sustained winds of 80 miles an hour, and gusts up to 100, raged around the eye.

Planes at the Key West Navy base were flown out of the storm's path and ships left port to ride out the blow at sea.

Girl, 19, Hurt As Rig Hits Stopped Auto

A 19 - year - old Wellsville district girl suffered a possible back injury early today when her car was hit from the rear by a tractor-trailer rig as she halted for a traffic signal on W. 8th St. at Lisbon St., police reported.

Joyce Ann James, 1338 Hillcrest Rd. was released after treatment at City Hospital.

Officers said her 1958 model four-door sedan was hit by a 1960 tractor-trailer rig driven by Donald Nicholson, 30, of 357 Ogden St. and owned by Tri-Valley Leasing Corp. of Dover.

The girl told officers the light changed to red as she drove west on the four-lane stretch, so she halted. She said she saw the rig attempt to pull around her car, then it hit the sedan in the rear.

Nicholson told officers he applied his brakes to halt, but his empty trailer began to "bounce." He said he tried to pull to the side of the auto,

2 Quizzed In Reported Plot To Kill President

REPORTED PLOT ON PRESIDENT. Nuces County Sheriff Johnny Mitchell stands with a high-powered rifle that was seized with other weapons early this morning in Corpus Christi, Texas. Mitchell acted on a tip that an attempt would be made to assassinate President Johnson on his Sunday visit to Corpus Christi. An ex-convict and another man have been arrested. (UPI Telephoto)

Face Charge In Violating Weapon Act

Informers Tipped Authorities About Collection Of Arms

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Officers today quizzed an ex-convict plumber, at whose home they seized guns and Nazi flags, about a reported plot to kill President Johnson here Sunday.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Julius Schmidt, 29, at his Corpus Christi home Tuesday night and took Jerry Bird, 27, of Calallen, Tex., into custody here several hours later.

They said both men would be charged with violating the National Firearms Act.

Word from informers about guns being collected in this city on the lower Texas coast prompted simultaneous raids on the home of Schmidt and that of his mother, Nueces County Sheriff Johnnie Mitchell said.

Informers reported there was "a lot of loose talk about assassinating the President" and quoted unnamed individuals as saying they would try to obtain guns from Schmidt, Mitchell said.

After questioning Schmidt for more than three hours, the sheriff said he at first doubted there was a plot on the life of President Johnson.

"Now that we have looked into it," Mitchell said, "there might be something to it. However, a plot has not yet been uncovered.

"I plan to arrest two more people."

The sheriff said Schmidt admitted buying machine guns and automatic weapons illegally but denied any knowledge of an assassination plot.

Mitchell said 25 deputies gathered up machine guns, automatic pistols, high - powered rifles, a knee mortar, a rocket launcher, live hand greandes, about 20,000 rounds of commercial and homemade ammunition, swords, several Nazi flags, World War I and II German helmets, a German medal and army uniform, photographs of World War II Nazi leaders and books by Adolf Hitler.

Some of the guns were at the home of Schmidt's mother because he lived there with his wife and small son until last August, the sheriff said.

Rights Leader Honored

Dr. Martin King Gets Peace Prize

OSLO, Norway (AP) —American Negro leader Martin Luther King Jr. was awarded the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize today.

The prize for the Georgia-born leader of the civil rights fight in the United States will amount to 273,000 Swedish kroner — $53,123 — this year.

The 35-year-old president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference was the 12th American to be awarded the peace prize. In addition, the American Friends Service Committee got it once.

The prize was awarded by the Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Storting (Parliament).

Chairman of the committee is director Gunnar Jahn. Vice chairman is Dean G. Natvig-Pedersen.

King was born in Atlanta, Ga. in 1929 and went to the Crozer Theological Seminary, Chester, Pa. He took his doctor's degree in theology at Boston University and served later as a Baptist minister.

In 1955 he was chosen to lead the Negro boycott of the Montgomery, Ala., city buses. Since then he has served as a leader in the Negro fight for civil rights, as president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

King was made "Man of the Year" by Time magazine in 1963 and this year was made an honorary doctor at Yale University and was awarded the John F. Kennedy Prize by the Catholic Council for Cooperation Between the Races in Chicago.

Ex-Governor Indicted On Bribe Charge

Four Associates Also Draw Count In Massachusetts

BOSTON (AP) — Former Democratic Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts has been indicted for conspiring to arrange a bribe.

The 53-year-old lawyer, who was governor from 1956 to 1960, was accused of conspiring with four members of the Governor's Council in 1960 to arrange payment of a bribe to gain reappointment of Anthony Dinatale as state commissioner of public works.

The four councilors also were indicted Tuesday in the closing minutes of the life of a special grand jury that has returned more than 150 indictments against 40 persons most of them present or former state officials, and 10 corporations. The jury was in session 8½ months.

One of the 40 indicted has been acquitted.

Furcolo said the charge against him was "obviously political" since it was brought three weeks before the election.

The aim of the investigation by the Massachusetts Crime Commission, which compiled the evidence presented to the grand jury, "was to get something on me at any cost," Furcolo said.

"If the accusation is not political, I challenge the prosecution to guarantee me a trial before election day," he said.

Chief Justice G. Joseph Tauro of the Massachusetts Superior Court promised that civil sessions would be closed down if necessary to provide judges for speedy trials.

Furcolo first entered public life in 1948 when he was elected to Congress at the age of 37. He was re-elected in 1950 but resigned during 1952 to accept appointment as state treasurer.

Sale To Open Thursday

Businessmen To Launch Autumn Green Tag Days

East Liverpool businessmen are putting the finishing touches today on plans for a three-day "Green Tag Day" sale Thursday through Saturday.

The front page of today's Review is printed on green paper to call attention to the event, arranged by the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

Launched on a trial basis by the businessmen in the fall of 1963, the event was so successful that the organization's promotion committee decided to continue the semi - annual sale permanently.

This year's first "Green Tag Days" sale was held in April.

Participating stores will display large streamers of vivid green on white and smaller rectangular banners in the same colors.

Although special values will be offered on all lines, it will be a particularly good opportunity for area shoppers to stock up on fall and winter needs, businessmen said.

The new promotion supplements ELMA's other special events — the semi - annual Dollar Day sales held in February and August.

The "Green Tag Days" are unique in that they continue across a three-day span, while Dollar Days are limited to a single day.

Fall and winter merchandise will be in the forefront during the sale — things such as clothing for adults and children; household and lawn needs, hardware and automotive items.

Arrangements were made by Charles Averell, chairman, and Max Shoff, vice chairman, of the promotion committee. Dayton Allen is ELMA chairman.

Street Crews Launch Collection Of Leaves

Street department crews have started the annual collection of leaves from East Liverpool streets, Supt. W. M. Laughlin said today.

The city's mechanical street sweeper is being used for the pickup, supplemented by at least one truck and crew and sometimes two, the superintendent said.

The city makes it an annual practice to collect the leaves so that they do not jam sewers or pose a traffic hazard on pavements when wet.

4 Children Perish In Ohio Home Fire

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — Four children died early today in a fire at their two - story house, about two miles southeast of New Vienna.

Tom Turner, the father, and three other youngsters were burned and brought here to a hospital.

Dr. Thomas B. Doan, deputy Highland County coroner, said the fire apparently started when Mrs. Turner was starting a fire in a coal stove and threw gasoline or kerosene on the coals.

Warm Autumn Trend To Continue Thursday

That fine autumn weather will continue through Thursday at least, with a still warmer trend due tomorrow, along with fair skies.

The downtown had a rather chilly 39 at 7 a. m. today but tonight's range will be in the low 40's. The day's high may exceed 70.

It seems like Indian Summer but actually that kind of weather usually follows a week or more — often two weeks — of freezing. Current temperatures, including the frosty mornings last weekend, are considered normal autumn weather.

United Fund Hits $26,378 In Campaign

A total of $26,378 has been collected so far in the area United Fund drive, over 23 per cent of the goal of $110,000 campaign leaders announced today.

Corporate and employe contributions are almost all an increase over gifts of last year, James Locke, drive chairman, said.

The campaign now includes 12 agencies, two more than in 1963, Locke pointed out, adding the combined solicitation means a savings in drive expenses and a convenience for contributors.

The campaign is centering on payroll deduction contributions, with those in the area asked to provide an hour's pay each month to help others in the community.

Among the large corporate and employe's contributions received so far are gifts of $2,750 from Ogilvie's Department Store, $2,200 from Patterson Industries and $704 from the Potters Supply Co., all an increase over last year.

BOSTON (AP) — Former Democratic Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts has been indicted for conspiring to arrange a bribe.

The 53-year-old lawyer, who was governor from 1956 to 1960, was accused of conspiring with four members of the Governor's Council in 1960 to arrange payment of a bribe to gain reappointment of Anthony Dinatale as state commissioner of public works.

The four councilors also were indicted Tuesday in the closing minutes of the life of a special grand jury that has returned more than 150 indictments against 40 persons most of them present or former state officials, and 10 corporations. The jury was in session 8½ months.

One of the 40 indicted has been acquitted.

Furcolo said the charge against him was "obviously political" since it was brought three weeks before the election.

The aim of the investigation by the Massachusetts Crime Commission, which compiled the evidence presented to the grand jury, "was to get something on me at any cost," Furcolo said.

"If the accusation is not political, I challenge the prosecution to guarantee me a trial before election day," he said.

Chief Justice G. Joseph Tauro of the Massachusetts Superior Court promised that civil sessions would be closed down if necessary to provide judges for speedy trials.

Furcolo first entered public life in 1948 when he was elected to Congress at the age of 37. He was re-elected in 1950 but resigned during 1952 to accept appointment as state treasurer.

Warm Autumn Trend To Continue Thursday

That fine autumn weather will continue through Thursday at least, with a still warmer trend due tomorrow, along with fair skies.

The downtown had a rather chilly 39 at 7 a. m. today but tonight's range will be in the low 40's. The day's high may exceed 70.

It seems like Indian Summer but actually that kind of weather usually follows a week, or more — often two weeks — of freezing. Current temperatures, including the frosty mornings last weekend, are considered normal autumn weather.

Face Charge In Violating Weapon Act

Informers Tipped Authorities About Collection Of Arms

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Officers today quizzed an ex-convict plumber, at whose home they seized guns and Nazi flags, about a reported plot to kill President Johnson here Sunday.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Julius Schmidt, 29, at his Corpus Christi home Tuesday night and took Jerry Bird, 27, of Callallen, Tex., into custody here several hours later.

They said both men would be charged with violating the National Firearms Act.

Word from informers about guns being collected in this city on the lower Texas coast prompted simultaneous raids on the home of Schmidt and that of his mother, Nueces County Sheriff Johnnie Mitchell said.

Informers reported there was "a lot of loose talk about assassinating the President" and quoted unnamed individuals as saying they would try to obtain guns from Schmidt, Mitchell said.

After questioning Schmidt for more than three hours, the sheriff said he at first doubted there was a plot on the life of President Johnson.

"Now that we have looked into it," Mitchell said, "there might be something to it. However, a plot has not yet been uncovered.

"I plan to arrest two more people."

The sheriff said Schmidt admitted buying machine guns and automatic weapons illegally but denied any knowledge of an assassination plot.

Mitchell said 25 deputies gathered up machine guns, automatic pistols, high - powered rifles, a knee mortar, a rocket launcher, live hand greandes, about 20,000 rounds of commercial and homemade ammunition, swords, several Nazi flags, World War I and II German helmets, a German medal and army uniform, photographs of World War II Nazi leaders and books by Adolf Hitler.

Some of the guns were at the home of Schmidt's mother because he lived there with his wife and small son until last August, the sheriff said.

United Fund Hits $26,378 In Campaign

A total of $26,378 has been collected so far in the area United Fund drive, over 23 per cent of the goal of $110,000 campaign leaders announced today.

Corporate and employe contributions are almost all an increase over gifts of last year, James Locke, drive chairman, said.

The campaign now includes 12 agencies, two more than in 1963, Locke pointed out, adding the combined solicitation means a savings in drive expenses and a convenience for contributors.

The campaign is centering on payroll deduction contributions, with those in the area asked to provide an hour's pay each month to help others in the community.

Among the large corporate and employe's contributions received so far are gifts of $2,750 from Ogilvie's Department Store, $2,200 from Patterson Industries and $704 from the Potters Supply Co., all an increase over last year.

but it was too late and he hit the vehicle in the rear.

Another motorist was cited 9:12 p. m. at Pennsylvania Ave. and Elizabeth St., police said.

John E. Schopper, 44, of Akron was cited on a charge of driving left of center following a collision between his eastbound 1964 station wagon and a westbound 1957 convertible operated by Kenneth Talbott, 54, of 1623 Cleveland Ave., officer said.

Schopper forfeited a $32.50 bond when he failed to appear this morning in Municipal Court.

Talbott told Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes that Schopper apparently did not anticipate the sharp turn at the intersection, crossed the center line and struck the local man's car. Physical evidence at the scene corroborated Talbott's report, the officer said.

Opportunity Always Knocking

The House of Representatives Intergovernmental Relations subcommittee has this to say in its final report on the Billie Sol Estes episode:

"Had all—or even a few—of the many federal investigations of Estes' operations been properly coordinated, it is almost inconceivable that his fraudulent activities could have been continued for such a long period. In some instances, federal agencies unsuccessfully sought information from private sources which already had given information of probable significance to other government units who failed to alert them concerning it."

The moral is clear. A wheeler-dealer like Billie Sol Estes always can take advantage of a government that does not let its right hand know what its left hand is doing.

IT IS THE same moral pointed up a few weeks ago in the Warren Commission's report on the assassination of President Kennedy.

Lee Oswald could not have committed the crime the commission is sure he committed if all agencies of the federal government had been meshed together in a harmonious pattern.

The Estes operation merely took advantage of a situation typical of any unwieldy organization, whether in government or in business.

Disclosure was made by a weekly newspaper in Texas, not by the federal government, not by the banks and companies that were involved, not by the law agencies of Texas, not by any of the hundreds of individuals, including public officials, who were charmed and hypnotized by what must have looked to them like something too profitable to be honest.

OPPORTUNITY is always knocking.

Anyone want to bet another Billie Sol Estes isn't busy right now taking shrewd advantage of the tendency to let sleeping dogs lie when someone is making a fast buck and passing around the fringe benefits?

Anyone want to bet the whistle won't be blown, when it finally is blown, by some outside party who just happened to stumble on to evidence of something too good to be true?

Preview On Polling

Americans who challenge the reliability of political polls will have a chance to reassess or perhaps reinforce their views a full two weeks in advance of the U.S. presidential election Nov. 3.

The preview on polling will be afforded by Great Britain, which for the first time in 40 years is holding its national elections in the same year as the U.S.

In Britain, which votes Thursday, a nip-and-tuck race between the Conservatives and the Labor party for control of the next Parliament has put professional pollsters on the spot.

ALTHOUGH latest polls have given Harold Wilson's Labor party the edge over Sir Alec Douglas-Home's Conservatives, the margin is paper thin.

A wrong call is not likely to be forgotten, especially if it is made by the ubiquitous Gallup poll, whose credibility in the U. S. presidential campaign is partly at stake.

British politicians have been critical of this poll's reliability because in the span of a week it reported the Labor party had wiped out the incumbent Tories' slim margin and had surged to a 4½-point lead.

This is a pretty steep swing in public opinion in a single week and British analysts are saying either the sampling was unrepresentative or the depth of questioning was inadequate.

But while the British are outwardly skeptical toward the polls, their reactions to the public opinion soundings show they may be taking more stock in them than we do.

GALLUP'S report that the Labor party had surpassed the Conservatives prompted a quick change in the campaign. Conservatives got off the defensive and began carrying personal attacks against Labor party leaders in an effort to woo the undecided voter.

And the stock market reacted with alarm. The common stock index dipped to its lowest point since the Cuban missile crisis in 1962 because the Laborites are calling for renationalization of steel and government land purchases for low-cost housing.

Whether these reactions were based on fact or fiction will be determined Thursday.

Meanwhile, Americans, whose doubts about opinion polls have never quite subsided after Harry Truman crossed them up in 1948, will be watching with interest.

In this election year it is not hands but eyes across the sea.

Not Quite That Hearty

Russian cosmonauts lived down the suspicion that they were not making the earth orbits they were credited with making. Perhaps the suspicion was unworthy of the skeptics who harbored it in earlier days.

But another suspicion has taken its place, and this one seems likely to take root and grow. It is the suspicion that a lot of foolish fluff is added to the cosmonauts' experiences before the official version is released.

In the account of the latest three-man orbiting, as well as in all previous accounts, the Russian cosmonauts had a high old time up there in space, eating with gusto, sleeping like kittens, listening to music and jabbering away like school girls.

Everything always is jam-packed with the jollies, in the Russian version. It's too good to be true.

Space exploration is not quite that hearty. Our own astronauts have given a more literal version.

They have reported unforgettable experiences. They have told about fleeting and varying impressions, difficulties with the apparatus of the capsules, how busy they were trying to do too many things at once, how uncomfortable they were during re-entry into the atmosphere, etc.

We suspect this is what Russian cosmonauts have on their minds, too — not fun and games, not the glory they are bringing to their government, not anything like that.

In short, we suspect pioneers in outer space are all the same, or would be if the Russian cosmonauts could be stripped of foolish fluff about sleeping soundly, eating like hungry bears and whooping it up for the eternal glory of Khrushchev, Marx, Engels and Lenin.

A Weapon For South Viet Nam

Most casualties in South Viet Nam, as far as U.S. advisers are concerned, have been associated with the vulnerability of helicopters in jungle warfare.

The helicopters are indispensable for aerial reconnaissance because they can hover over marshes, swamps, jungles, lakes, rivers and soggy fields of the perpetually sodden terrain of South Viet Nam.

But the same characteristics that make them useful for aerial observation make helicopters ideal targets for groundlings with rifles. Anyone who can pull a trigger can hit the whirly-birds somewhere. Anyone who can shoot with accuracy at a moving object can hit them in a vulnerable spot and with a little luck can kill or wound their passengers.

Comes now a suggestion for a better vehicle to fight jungle war in South Viet Nam — a military version of the "air boats" used in the Florida Everglades to transport tourists. These craft skim over the surface of the water, propelled by airplane propellers powered with relatively small air-cooled engines. They travel at high speed, are inexpensive and are ideal for the South Viet Nam terrain.

If the United States intends to hang on in South Viet Nam, it will need all its means, including, conceivably, what has proved workable for tourists visiting the Everglades here at home.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

I try not to feel depressed about this, but I always come out on the short end of trick questions that show how much below average the victim is.

Friend of mine reading a letter from his son in South Viet Nam spoiled my dinner with a passage about a meal of pigeon head soup and dog meat. I never had thought about it, but U.S. advisers must eat the native chow.

Prominent among my plans for reforming the Republic is a Commission of Interpretation to tell the public officially what U.S. Supreme Court rulings mean in the language of laymen — not that the rulings are obscure but interpretations by prejudiced parties can be both obscure and malicious.

I see no difference between modern-day polling and old-fashioned guessing when it comes to politics, except the polling is pseudo-scientific like so many other old-fashioned things that have been updated.

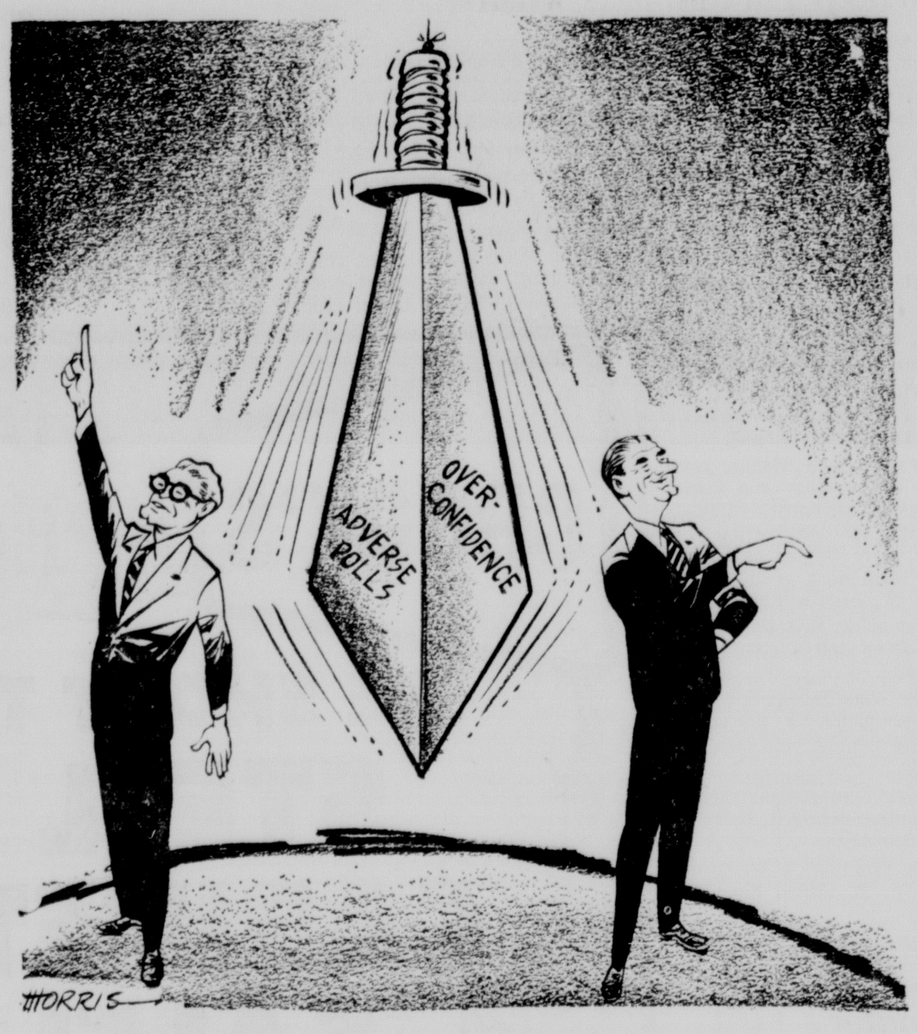
Perhaps I've missed it, but apparently neither presidential candidate this year smokes. In 1960, John F. Kennedy lit up a cigar occasionally.

The dimensions of the payoff as carried on in high places are staggering, but an allegation that a New York politician demanded a $100,000 stock option, a $20,000 annual retainer for at least five years and the gift-shop concession for a night-club liquor license suggests this sort of thing may be getting stupendous.

Though I considered Eddie Cantor to be one of the greatest entertainers of my time, his particular style of entertaining never appealed to me. It seemed to me he was all showman, and a better trick is to be that way without giving the impression of being that way—more like Jack Benny.

I admit dozing off during the one World Series game I saw on TV, which is of no significance, except I find baseball to be a dozing-off sport and believe this feeling is shared.

A Two-Edged Sword



Labor Wages Broad Political Campaign

By Victor Riesel

Up and down the slum streets, the suburbs, the mining towns, the cotton field crossroads, the big crowded cities and the hamlets of New Mexico, from Long Island Sound to Puget Sound, America's labor leaders are using the final election weeks to mount the most massive campaign in America's political history.

Victor Riesel

Nothing has been overlooked in its drive to raise $10 million, distribute tens of millions of pieces of literature and union publications and reach millions of voters through special broadcasts—in the final push to defeat Barry Goldwater. There are several national unions which are contributing to a minimum of 95 congressional candidates.

When I left on this political trek, for example, National Maritime Union (NMU) President Joe Curran hit on a unique propaganda device. On weekends he rolled his 38-foot personal craft into the pleasure boat-laden waters of Long Island Sound. At the wheel of his own boat, the Land-Ho, Curran ran up signal flags reading LBJ for the USA.

THAT'S WEEKEND stuff. Back in his New York headquarters, he directed the NMU Fighting Fund, which asks the sailors for political contributions for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket every "pay off" day. Well over $100,000 has been raised.

Across the Hudson River in Jersey, Paul Hall's dynamic Seafarers International Union operates its campaign on land. In charge is G. Patrick McGinty, regional director of the SIU's Railway Marine Division who directed a swift transportation - to - the - registration-center system.

He used buses, station wagons, and a fleet of cars. A regular schedule was maintained from NAACP headquarters for members, for senior citizens and Spanish language and Puerto Rican groups.

His quota was 10,000 new voters. He made it. On Election Day he will have the transportation operation in full swing from opening to closing of the polls.

In one fashion or other there are similar systems being prepared all the way from Virginia, South Carolina, Mississippi, Texas, to Carlsbad, New Mexico, where the labor people now run the city.

In the South the coalition is among the young liberal Democrats, the union leaders and the Negro organizations. In the Southwest, the big blocs of Americans of Latin extraction are added.

IN WHAT is generally the Republican Northwest, the burden is almost completely on the unions. In some cities such as Portland, Ore., unionists are preparing telephone squads to sit at phones all through Election Day summoning voters to the ballot box. One Seattle union leader believes that more than one million calls will be made in the Northwestern states from special labor headquarters.

But the labor leaders figure it won't be enough just to have the transportation fleets ready. The worker must be ready and willing to be transported to the polls. So the air is filled with radio and TV broadcasts, some of them produced directly by the union specialists themselves.

Tens of thousands of local meetings have been held across the country and many of them have featured special motion pictures attacking the Republicans and praising the Johnson-Kennedy administration.

All this takes money. For months now the AFL-CIO, nearly 13 million strong, has been pushing its dollar-a-member campaign. The slogan has been Register-Vote-Give a Buck to COPE (Committee on Political Education).

AND THE MONEY has been pouring in since mid-August in batches of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Sometimes it has come in bulk, such as the $100,000 the International Union of Electrical Workers' president, Jim Carey, gave in behalf of the Industrial Union Dept. on Aug. 19. The department is headed by Walter Reuther.

Sometimes it comes in small sums, such as have been collected in needle workers' shops from New York and Boston right across to Los Angeles by the International Ladies Garment Workers 1964 Campaign Committee headed by President Johnson's close friend and ally, David Dubinsky.

Thus it is with the Machinists, the Railroad Brotherhoods, the Steel and Auto Workers Unions, just to name a few which have thousands of locals meeting regularly.

Some locals have raised as much as $10,000. Some, in the small communities in Idaho, Montana and the northern Pacific Coast states have poured in hundreds of dollars each. But the total is in the millions. Collectors have been trained and have been assigned 10 to 20 fellow members from whom to "get a buck."

NOT ALL of these funds are going for the national ticket. In the words of Hank Brown, leader of the Texas AFL-CIO, labor wants to win "from the Court House to the White House."

The political machinery now being welded will not be dismantled. It will be used for drives on the city halls, state legislatures and the gubernatorial chairs everywhere.

In the Southwest, and even as far north as Seattle, many conversations include a discussion of little Carlsbad, N. M. There last April 7 a union slate ran on a Citizens ticket. It got most of its people registered and then on the final day got its members to the polls.

The Citizens ticket elected a member of the Machinists Union as mayor, a member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, another Machinist and an active member in the Retail Clerks of the city council. Labor took all posts but one.

You may not have heard of Carlsbad, but the labor people have. To some of them its full meaning ranks second only to the national election in the planning for the future.

Unique Campaign

By David Lawrence

Johnson 'Wheeling And Dealing' Questioned

The current presidential campaign is unique in one respect—more emphasis is being placed on the personal characteristics of the candidates than has been true in preceding campaigns. Republicans are displeased because of the implication that Sen. Goldwater would, if elected, be a "reckless" president, while Democrats are unhappy because of the persistent campaign questioning the "ethics" of President Johnson. Perhaps the frankest statement on what is meant when the Republicans call Mr. Johnson a "wheeler-dealer" has just come from Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who appeared on a television and radio network on Sunday. He said:

David Lawrence

"Well, I think the big issue that we are finally getting down to in this campaign is the character of the president of the United States. In other words, for so long the people of this country have equated politics almost with hypocrisy. They have been fed a diet of cream of wheat as far as politics. And now they are faced with one candidate whose candor is sometimes mistaken for recklessness when in fact all he is being is honest, the unorthodox politician. On the other hand, we have the classic politician, the present incumbent.

"I think what it is finally going to boil down to is whether the people of this United States want a man whose main attribute is plain, simple, old-fashioned honesty. I think that is our greatest advantage."

MR. BURCH then was asked just how he would characterize President Johnson. He answered as follows:

"Well, I'm not going to characterize the President as a man of dishonesty per se. But the President is a politician in the sorriest sense of the term, to my way of thinking. He is the wheeler-dealer, the arm-twister, 'go for whatever is good at the moment, disregard what you have done in the past'—that sort of thing. Sen. Goldwater is consistent and he is honest. That is the way I would appraise the two candidates."

Mr. Burch was asked if he didn't think that "wheeling and dealing and twisting people's arms to arrive at compromise is part of the Democratic system and are desirable attributes in the White House." His reply was as follows:

"Not the way the President works it—no, I wouldn't say so. This might have worked in the legislative body, where he got all of his training, in the Congress. There is a great deal of wheeling and dealing and arm-twisting in the Congress.

"But I think it is a little unbecoming for the President of the United States to be twisting arms in the Congress, because they are two separate branches of the government."

WHEN ASKED to give a specific example of wheeling and dealing and arm-twisting, Mr. Burch replied:

"I'm talking about the votes on the civil rights bills. Anybody who shows the least bit of nervousness about a vote for the administration gets a call from the President and it is suggested that he should well reconsider his position. . . . He (the President) suggests that he has a long memory and that if he (the congressman) wants his district taken care of, and if he wants to be on the inside of the White House he had better go along with the administration program."

What the Republican chairman has described, however, is a tactic that is not novel in Washington. Other presidents have used it, too. Many members of Congress have risked their political futures by refusing to go along with administration policies with which they disagreed. But the tendency in recent years has been more and more to condone the use of public funds and governmental favors to influence the votes of members of Congress. This isn't usually described as "dishonest," but as merely "practical politics."

Many a political contributor doesn't expect any reward if a candidate he supports wins the election but there are many others who do.

IT TAKES a good deal of courage for a president to turn down heavy contributors to a political campaign, and in the past the contributors have been rewarded by appointments to posts in the diplomatic service or in the Cabinet or in other posts outside the civil service. For decades there has been condemnation of this practice, but nothing seems to have been done about it.

And what is called "arm-twisting" and "wheeler-dealing" today is something which has grown in scope over the years and now plays a significant part not only in lining up votes in Congress but in the allocation of some government contracts and the selection of sites for governmental projects.

All this doesn't necessarily impugn the personal character of a president, but it certainly emphasizes how far the American politician has strayed from what used to be called "unselfish devotion to the public interest."

Russians Stick Nose In

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Russians stick their nose into American presidential campaigns every four years directly, indirectly or accidentally.

It was direct enough last July when Sen. Barry Goldwater won the Republican nomination and Premier Khrushchev accused him of trying "to enter the White House under the slogans of unbridled anti-communism and war threats."

And the Russian leader likened the Republican convention to a Nazi party rally.

Khrushchev has been quiet since. But now Russia has shot three men aloft in a space capsule circling the earth and outdoing anything this country ever attempted.

It isn't clear whether they had to do this right now for scientific reasons, hoped it might add to the wrangle between President Johnson and Goldwater, or just didn't care.

It's not the first time they did this kind of thing in the midst of a campaign. They did it in 1960, when they orbited two dogs. Not to be outdone, the United States shot three mice 650 miles aloft before the campaign was over.

Yet, what the Russians did then was like a quiet afterthought to a bad year that got off to a pleasant start.

In 1960 President Eisenhower and Khrushchev not only exchanged Happy New Year greetings but arranged for Eisenhower to visit Russia in June. Then the roof fell down, or rather the American U2 spy-plane did.

The Russians shot it out of the sky over their motherland in May.

In quick order that month Khrushchev broke up the Paris summit meeting with Eisenhower, denounced him, called off the President's trip to Russia, and cabled Democratic party leaders in this country.

He said "broad sections of the (American) public and many prominent political figures in the United States are seriously concerned" about the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign policy.

Then on July 13 Khrushchev expressed his opinions to a visiting American — Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union — on Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon. The vice president had debated Khrushchev in a Moscow display kitchen in 1959.

Curran said Khrushchev disparaged Nixon but thought Kennedy made "some sense." If this seemed like favoritism, it didn't last long. He had some more to say in August in a speech hoping Americans would elect a president whose policy called for improving relations with Russia.

He indicated neither Kennedy nor Nixon was the man and said it was as difficult to choose between them as between left and right in a pair of boots. He called them both "lackeys of monopoly capital." That was in August 1960.

It wasn't all he did that year. In September and October he went to the United Nations in New York and distracted Americans from the campaign with a one-man show which he climaxed by pounding a U.N. desk with his shoe.

Opportunity Always Knocking

The House of Representatives Intergovernmental Relations subcommittee has this to say in its final report on the Billie Sol Estes episode:

"Had all—or even a few—of the many federal investigations of Estes' operations been properly coordinated, it is almost inconceivable that his fraudulent activities could have been continued for such a long period. In some instances, federal agencies unsuccessfully sought information from private sources which already had given information of probable significance to other government units who failed to alert them concerning it."

The moral is clear. A wheeler-dealer like Billie Sol Estes always can take advantage of a government that does not let its right hand know what its left hand is doing.

IT IS THE same moral pointed up a few weeks ago in the Warren Commission's report on the assassination of President Kennedy.

Lee Oswald could not have committed the crime the commission is sure he committed if all agencies of the federal government had been meshed together in a harmonious pattern.

The Estes operation merely took advantage of a situation typical of any unwieldy organization, whether in government or in business.

Disclosure was made by a weekly newspaper in Texas, not by the federal government, not by the banks and companies that were involved, not by the law agencies of Texas, not by any of the hundreds of individuals, including public officials, who were charmed and hypnotized by what must have looked to them like something too profitable to be honest.

OPPORTUNITY is always knocking.

Anyone want to bet another Billie Sol Estes isn't busy right now taking shrewd advantage of the tendency to let sleeping dogs lie when someone is making a fast buck and passing around the fringe benefits?

Anyone want to bet the whistle won't be blown, when it finally is blown, by some outside party who just happened to stumble on to evidence of something too good to be true?

Preview On Polling

Americans who challenge the reliability of political polls will have a chance to reassess or perhaps reinforce their views a full two weeks in advance of the U.S. presidential election Nov. 3.

The preview on polling will be afforded by Great Britain, which for the first time in 40 years is holding its national elections in the same year as the U.S.

In Britain, which votes Thursday, a nip-and-tuck race between the Conservatives and the Labor party for control of the next Parliament has put professional pollsters on the spot.

ALTHOUGH latest polls have given Harold Wilson's Labor party the edge over Sir Alec Douglas-Home's Conservatives, the margin is paper thin.

A wrong call is not likely to be forgotten, especially if it is made by the ubiquitous Gallup poll, whose credibility in the U. S. presidential campaign is partly at stake.

British politicians have been critical of this poll's reliability because in the span of a week it reported the Labor party had wiped out the incumbent Tories' slim margin and had surged to a 4½-point lead.

This is a pretty steep swing in public opinion in a single week and British analysts are saying either the sampling was unrepresentative or the depth of questioning was inadequate.

But while the British are outwardly skeptical toward the polls, their reactions to the public opinion soundings show they may be taking more stock in them than we do.

GALLUP'S report that the Labor party had surpassed the Conservatives prompted a quick change in the campaign. Conservatives got off the defensive and began carrying personal attacks against Labor party leaders in an effort to woo the undecided voter.

And the stock market reacted with alarm. The common stock index dipped to its lowest point since the Cuban missile crisis in 1962 because the Laborites are calling for renationalization of steel and government land purchases for low-cost housing.

Whether these reactions were based on fact or fiction will be determined Thursday.

Meanwhile, Americans, whose doubts about opinion polls have never quite subsided after Harry Truman crossed them up in 1948, will be watching with interest.

In this election year it is not hands but eyes across the sea.

Not Quite That Hearty

Russian cosmonauts lived down the suspicion that they were not making the earth orbits they were credited with making. Perhaps the suspicion was unworthy of the skeptics who harbored it in earlier days.

But another suspicion has taken its place, and this one seems likely to take root and grow. It is the suspicion that a lot of foolish fluff is added to the cosmonauts' experiences before the official version is released.

In the account of the latest three-man orbiting, as well as in all previous accounts, the Russian cosmonauts had a high old time up there in space, eating with gusto, sleeping like kittens, listening to music and jabbering away like school girls.

Everything always is jam-packed with the jollies, in the Russian version. It's too good to be true.

Space exploration is not quite that hearty. Our own astronauts have given a more literal version.

They have reported unforgettable experiences. They have told about fleeting and varying impressions, difficulties with the apparatus of the capsules, how busy they were trying to do too many things at once, how uncomfortable they were during re-entry into the atmosphere, etc.

We suspect this is what Russian cosmonauts have on their minds, too — not fun and games, not the glory they are bringing to their government, not anything like that.

In short, we suspect pioneers in outer space are all the same, or would be if the Russian cosmonauts could be stripped of foolish fluff about sleeping soundly, eating like hungry bears and whooping it up for the eternal glory of Khrushchev, Marx, Engels and Lenin.

A Weapon For South Viet Nam

Most casualties in South Viet Nam, as far as U.S. advisers are concerned, have been associated with the vulnerability of helicopters in jungle warfare.

The helicopters are indispensable for aerial reconnaissance because they can hover over marshes, swamps, jungles, lakes, rivers and soggy fields of the perpetually sodden terrain of South Viet Nam.

But the same characteristics that make them useful for aerial observation make helicopters ideal targets for groundlings with rifles. Anyone who can pull a trigger can hit the whirly-birds somewhere. Anyone who can shoot with accuracy at a moving object can hit them in a vulnerable spot and with a little luck can kill or wound their passengers.

Comes now a suggestion for a better vehicle to fight jungle war in South Viet Nam — a military version of the "air boats" used in the Florida Everglades to transport tourists. These craft skim over the surface of the water, propelled by airplane propellers powered with relatively small air-cooled engines. They travel at high speed, are inexpensive and are ideal for the South Viet Nam terrain.

If the United States intends to hang on in South Viet Nam, it will need all its means, including, conceivably, what has proved workable for tourists visiting the Everglades here at home.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

I try not to feel depressed about this, but I always come out on the short end of trick questions that show how much below average the victim is.

Friend of mine reading a letter from his son in South Viet Nam spoiled my dinner with a passage about a meal of pigeon head soup and dog meat. I never had thought about it, but U.S. advisers must eat the native chow.

Prominent among my plans for reforming the Republic is a Commission of Interpretation to tell the public officially what U.S. Supreme Court rulings mean in the language of laymen — not that the rulings are obscure but interpretations by prejudiced parties can be both obscure and malicious.

I see no difference between modern-day polling and old-fashioned guessing when it comes to politics, except the polling is pseudo-scientific like so many other old-fashioned things that have been updated.

Perhaps I've missed it, but apparently neither presidential candidate this year smokes. In 1960, John F. Kennedy lit up a cigar occasionally.

The dimensions of the payoff as carried on in high places are staggering, but an allegation that a New York politician demanded a $100,000 stock option, a $20,000 annual retainer for at least five years and the gift-shop concession for a night-club liquor license suggests this sort of thing may be getting stupendous.

Though I considered Eddie Cantor to be one of the greatest entertainers of my time, his particular style of entertaining never appealed to me. It seemed to me he was all showman, and a better trick is to be that way without giving the impression of being that way—more like Jack Benny.

I admit dozing off during the one World Series game I saw on TV, which is of no significance, except I find baseball to be a dozing-off sport and believe this feeling is shared.

A Two-Edged Sword

Labor Wages Broad Political Campaign

By Victor Riesel

Up and down the slum streets, the suburbs, the mining towns, the cotton field crossroads, the big crowded cities and the hamlets of New Mexico, from Long Island Sound to Puget Sound, America's labor leaders are using the final election weeks to mount the most massive campaign in America's political history.

Victor Riesel

Nothing has been overlooked in its drive to raise $10 million, distribute tens of millions of pieces of literature and union publications and reach millions of voters through special broadcasts—in the final push to defeat Barry Goldwater. There are several national unions which are contributing to a minimum of 95 congressional candidates.

When I left on this political trek, for example, National Maritime Union (NMU) President Joe Curran hit on a unique propaganda device. On weekends he rolled his 38-foot personal craft into the pleasure boat-laden waters of Long Island Sound. At the wheel of his own boat, the Land-Ho, Curran ran up signal flags reading LBJ for the USA.

THAT'S WEEKEND stuff. Back in his New York headquarters, he directed the NMU Fighting Fund, which asks the sailors for political contributions for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket every "pay off" day. Well over $100,000 has been raised.

Across the Hudson River in Jersey, Paul Hall's dynamic Seafarers International Union operates its campaign on land. In charge is G. Patrick McGinty, regional director of the SIU's Railway Marine Division who directed a swift transportation - to - the - registration-center system.

He used buses, station wagons, and a fleet of cars. A regular schedule was maintained from NAACP headquarters for members, for senior citizens and Spanish language and Puerto Rican groups.

His quota was 10,000 new voters. He made it. On Election Day he will have the transportation operation in full swing from opening to closing of the polls.

In one fashion or other there are similar systems being prepared all the way from Virginia, South Carolina, Mississippi, Texas, to Carlsbad, New Mexico, where the labor people now run the city.

In the South the coalition is among the young liberal Democrats, the union leaders and the Negro organizations. In the Southwest, the big blocs of Americans of Latin extraction are added.

IN WHAT is generally the Republican Northwest, the burden is almost completely on the unions. In some cities such as Portland, Ore., unionists are preparing telephone squads to sit at phones all through Election Day summoning voters to the ballot box. One Seattle union leader believes that more than one million calls will be made in the Northwestern states from special labor headquarters.

But the labor leaders figure it won't be enough just to have the transportation fleets ready. The worker must be ready and willing to be transported to the polls. So the air is filled with radio and TV broadcasts, some of them produced directly by the union specialists themselves.

Tens of thousands of local meetings have been held across the country and many of them have featured special motion pictures attacking the Republicans and praising the Johnson-Kennedy administration.

All this takes money. For months now the AFL-CIO, nearly 13 million strong, has been pushing its dollar-a-member campaign. The slogan has been Register-Vote-Give a Buck to COPE (Committee on Political Education).

AND THE MONEY has been pouring in since mid-August in batches of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Sometimes it has come in bulk, such as the $100,000 the International Union of Electrical Workers' president, Jim Carey, gave in behalf of the Industrial Union Dept. on Aug. 19. The department is headed by Walter Reuther.

Sometimes it comes in small sums, such as have been collected in needle workers' shops from New York and Boston right across to Los Angeles by the International Ladies Garment Workers 1964 Campaign Committee headed by President Johnson's close friend and ally, David Dubinsky.

Thus it is with the Machinists, the Railroad Brotherhoods, the Steel and Auto Workers Unions, just to name a few which have thousands of locals meeting regularly.

Some locals have raised as much as $10,000. Some, in the small communities in Idaho, Montana and the northern Pacific Coast states have poured in hundreds of dollars each. But the total is in the millions. Collectors have been trained and have been assigned 10 to 20 fellow members from whom to "get a buck."

NOT ALL of these funds are going for the national ticket. In the words of Hank Brown, leader of the Texas AFL-CIO, labor wants to win "from the Court House to the White House."

The political machinery now being welded will not be dismantled. It will be used for drives on the city halls, state legislatures and the gubernatorial chairs everywhere.

In the Southwest, and even as far north as Seattle, many conversations include a discussion of little Carlsbad, N. M. There last April 7 a union slate ran on a Citizens ticket. It got most of its people registered and then on the final day got its members to the polls.

The Citizens ticket elected a member of the Machinists Union as mayor, a member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, another Machinist and an active member in the Retail Clerks of the city council. Labor took all posts but one.

You may not have heard of Carlsbad, but the labor people have. To some of them its full meaning ranks second only to the national election in the planning for the future.

Unique Campaign

By David Lawrence

Johnson 'Wheeling And Dealing' Questioned

The current presidential campaign is unique in one respect—more emphasis is being placed on the personal characteristics of the candidates than has been true in preceding campaigns. Republicans are displeased because of the implication that Sen. Goldwater would, if elected, be a "reckless" president, while Democrats are unhappy because of the persistent campaign questioning the "ethics" of President Johnson. Perhaps the frankest statement on what is meant when the Republicans call Mr. Johnson a "wheeler-dealer" has just come from Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who appeared on a television and radio network on Sunday. He said:

David Lawrence

"Well, I think the big issue that we are finally getting down to in this campaign is the character of the president of the United States. In other words, for so long the people of this country have equated politics almost with hypocrisy. They have been fed a diet of cream of wheat as far as politics. And now they are faced with one candidate whose candor is sometimes mistaken for recklessness when in fact all he is being is honest, the unorthodox politician. On the other hand, we have the classic politician, the present incumbent.

"I think what it is finally going to boil down to is whether the people of this United States want a man whose main attribute is plain, simple, old-fashioned honesty. I think that is our greatest advantage."

MR. BURCH then was asked just how he would characterize President Johnson. He answered as follows:

"Well, I'm not going to characterize the President as a man of dishonesty per se. But the President is a politician in the sorriest sense of the term, to my way of thinking. He is the wheeler-dealer, the arm-twister, 'go for whatever is good at the moment, disregard what you have done in the past'—that sort of thing. Sen. Goldwater is consistent and he is honest. That is the way I would appraise the two candidates."

Mr. Burch was asked if he didn't think that "wheeling and dealing and twisting people's arms to arrive at compromise is part of the Democratic system and are desirable attributes in the White House." His reply was as follows:

"Not the way the President works it—no, I wouldn't say so. This might have worked in the legislative body, where he got all of his training, in the Congress. There is a great deal of wheeling and dealing and arm-twisting in the Congress.

"But I think it is a little unbecoming for the President of the United States to be twisting arms in the Congress, because they are two separate branches of the government."

WHEN ASKED to give a specific example of wheeling and dealing and arm-twisting, Mr. Burch replied:

"I'm talking about the votes on the civil rights bills. Anybody who shows the least bit of nervousness about a vote for the administration gets a call from the President and it is suggested that he should well reconsider his position. . . . He (the President) suggests that he has a long memory and that if he (the congressman) wants his district taken care of, and if he wants to be on the inside of the White House he had better go along with the administration program."

What the Republican chairman has described, however, is a tactic that is not novel in Washington. Other presidents have used it, too. Many members of Congress have risked their political futures by refusing to go along with administration policies with which they disagreed. But the tendency in recent years has been more and more to condone the use of public funds and governmental favors to influence the votes of members of Congress. This isn't usually described as "dishonest," but as merely "practical politics."

Many a political contributor doesn't expect any reward if a candidate he supports wins the election but there are many others who do.

IT TAKES a good deal of courage for a president to turn down heavy contributors to a political campaign, and in the past the contributors have been rewarded by appointments to posts in the diplomatic service or in the Cabinet or in other posts outside the civil service. For decades there has been condemnation of this practice, but nothing seems to have been done about it.

And what is called "arm-twisting" and "wheeler-dealing" today is something which has grown in scope over the years and now plays a significant part not only in lining up votes in Congress but in the allocation of some government contracts and the selection of sites for governmental projects.

All this doesn't necessarily impugn the personal character of a president, but it certainly emphasizes how far the American politician has strayed from what used to be called "unselfish devotion to the public interest."

Russians Stick Nose In

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Russians stick their nose into American presidential campaigns every four years directly, indirectly or accidentally.

It was direct enough last July when Sen. Barry Goldwater won the Republican nomination and Premier Khrushchev accused him of trying "to enter the White House under the slogans of unbridled anti-communism and war threats."

And the Russian leader likened the Republican convention to a Nazi party rally.

Khrushchev has been quiet since. But now Russia has shot three men aloft in a space capsule circling the earth and outdoing anything this country ever attempted.

It isn't clear whether they had to do this right now for scientific reasons, hoped it might add to the wrangle between President Johnson and Goldwater, or just didn't care.

• sit or bend...only the special back section moves.
• straighten up...it returns to shape without tell-tale bumps.
• elasticized with Blue C® spandex... slimming and comfortable.
• panty stays put...can't creep up or ride down.

PLAYBACK by BESTFORM

Held At Weirton

Sharp Exchanges Mark Forum For Candidates

Hancock County political circles were still buzzing today over sharp exchanges that took place between several candidates at a "Meet Your Candidate" forum sponsored by the Weirton Jaycees and county Democratic and Republican leaders Monday night at the Weirton VFW Hall.

The forum proceeded with decorum through the first group of candidates, for constable, squire, surveyor, county clerk, assessor, and county commissioners, with each relating personal biographies. But the subject changed when Atty. Leonard Z. Alpert of Weirton received his turn.

Alpert, Republican nominee for prosecuting attorney of Hancock, charged his opponent, Floyd R. Tarr (D) was "doing little to curb gambling in Hancock County."

He declared that Tarr and his assistant had campaigned four years ago on pledges to clean up racketeering in Hancock County and had failed to do so. He claimed that in the four years that Frank A. Pietranton was prosecutor and Alpert was assistant, there was "no Club 30 or Club Paddock."

"Things have gone bad in Hancock County," Alpert charged. "This was the first time in the history of the county that the FBI was required to come into the county to make widespread arrests." He referred to a raid on the Jockey Club on Route 30 east of Chester. "This was never necessary before."

The Republican nominee also pointed out Hancock County ranks "second highest in West Virginia in the number of gambling stamps."

"Tarr has done nothing to clean up the gambling mess in Hancock County," Alpert charged. "I mean his use of the Grand Jury. Not one single indictment was asked by him to rid the county of this scourge." Alpert alleged he could name names where several gambling cases were held to the Grand Jury but were "pigeon-holed."

"If elected," he said, "I pledge you'll get more than a token prosecuting attorney."

Prosecutor Tarr followed Alpert to the rostrum, and assured his GOP opponent, "I can get rough too."

He recalled when Alpert was assistant prosecutor, his office did very little about "the one-armed bandits."

"During my term," he said, "There were 55 slot machines and about $25,000 worth of gambling equipment publicly destroyed. This was the first time in the history of the county that the press was invited to witness the destruction of these devices."

"Now just how many did Mr. Pietranton and Mr. Alpert destroy in their four years?," Tarr questioned. Tarr claimed Club Paddock did operate during Alpert's term. He said that when the FBI raided the Jockey Club on federal charges, it was he (Tarr) who went to Federal Court and succeeded in having the confiscated gambling equipment turned to the state for destruction. Tarr said he was proud of his record on checking persons on parole and probation and also his record in juvenile cases.

Larry Bailey, 30, of Fairmont, candidate for 1st District congressman, also dueled verbally with veteran Arch A. Moore Jr., Republican, of Glen Dale, who is running for his fifth term.

Bailey criticized Rep. Moore's attendance record and attacked him for voting against the Appalachia bill.

But Rep. Moore replied he had the best voting record of any congressman from West Virginia in the last session of the Congress and had missed only two days. Rep. Moore pointed to "long and close association with the people of Hancock County, irrespective of party, and his quick service to them in Washington."

He said that West Virginia was being avoided in the ARA bill and it was his floor fight that resulted in $25 million being included in the measure for his state. During the last 23 month session, he had six bills enacted into law, Moore said.

Robert Baron, Republican candidate for state senator, denounced the state Democratic administration for increasing the sales tax from 2 per cent to 3, imposing a new state income tax and failing to generate prosperity in the state. He declared the administration's record was "closely aligned" to Sen. William Tompos.

Tompos, Democratic nominee and incumbent, said he resented being linked to the "Statehouse gang." "That's the outfit I've been fighting. There are bad Democrats as well as bad Republicans down in Charleston and I fight them all if I think they're wrong," he said. "I don't pick on the little fellow. I go after A. T. & T., and Columbia Gas. I have fought the Public Service Commission," Tompos declared.

Hancock Democrat Group Plans Rally For Candidates

Plans were mapped for a rally next week honoring state and county candidates when the New Frontier Democratic League of Hancock County met Tuesday night at the New Cumberland VFW Hall.

David Graham, social chairman, announced the rally will be held next Tuesday night at 8 at the Weirton Knights of Columbus Hall. A dance and refreshments will follow and the public may attend the free event, he said.

Guests are to include Judge Thornton Berry Jr. of the State Supreme Court, C. Donald Robertson, state attorney general; John Kelly, state treasurer; Denzil Gainer, state auditor, and Joe Burdett, secretary of state.

Joe Ziniach and his band will provide music at the dance.

About 100 attended and Mickey Mellas of Weirton, president, presided. Among the candidates present were Joe Rodak, for sheriff; Floyd Tarr, prosecuting attorney; Anthony Pirraglia, assessor; William Tompos, state senator; George Konchar, county clerk; William Graham and Jack Evans, county commissioners; George Griffith and George Tokash, House of Delegates, and Jack Thayer, for Clay District justice of the peace.

The speaker was to have been Al Chapman of Wheeling, who was unable to attend.

Maylone said a prize will be given the team obtaining the most memberships.

Daun Gitschier presented a check to Maylone representing the proceeds from a public corn roast held last month. The money will be for the child welfare program.

In Great Britain, the amount a candidate may spend on his campaign for office is severely controlled by law, about $2,000 for each candidate. The idea is to obviate personal wealth as an advantage.

Held At Weirton

Sharp Exchanges Mark Forum For Candidates

Hancock County political circles were still buzzing today over sharp exchanges that took place between several candidates at a "Meet Your Candidate" forum sponsored by the Weirton Jaycees and county Democratic and Republican leaders Monday night at the Weirton VFW Hall.

The forum proceeded with decorum through the first group of candidates, for constable, squire, surveyor, county clerk, assessor, and county commissioners, with each relating personal biographies. But the subject changed when Atty. Leonard Z. Alpert of Weirton received his turn.

Alpert, Republican nominee for prosecuting attorney of Hancock, charged his opponent, Floyd R. Tarr (D) was "doing little to curb gambling in Hancock County."

He declared that Tarr and his assistant had campaigned four years ago on pledges to clean up racketeering in Hancock County and had failed to do so. He claimed that in the four years that Frank A. Pietranton was prosecutor and Alpert was assistant, there was "no Club 30 or Club Paddock."

"Things have gone bad in Hancock County," Alpert charged. "This was the first time in the history of the county that the FBI was required to come into the county to make widespread arrests." He referred to a raid on the Jockey Club on Route 30 east of Chester. "This was never necessary before."

The Republican nominee also pointed out Hancock County ranks "second highest in West Virginia in the number of gambling stamps."

"Tarr has done nothing to clean up the gambling mess in Hancock County," Alpert charged. "I mean his use of the Grand Jury. Not one single indictment was asked by him to rid the county of this scourge." Alpert alleged he could name names where several gambling cases were held to the Grand Jury but were "pigeon-holed."

"If elected," he said, "I pledge you'll get more than a token prosecuting attorney."

Prosecutor Tarr followed Alpert to the rostrum, and assured his GOP opponent, "I can get rough too."

He recalled when Alpert was assistant prosecutor, his office did very little about "the one-armed bandits."

"During my term," he said, "There were 55 slot machines and about $25,000 worth of gambling equipment publicly destroyed. This was the first time in the history of the county that the press was invited to witness the destruction of these devices."

"Now just how many did Mr. Pietranton and Mr. Alpert destroy in their four years?," Tarr questioned. Tarr claimed Club Paddock did operate during Alpert's term. He said that when the FBI raided the Jockey Club on federal charges, it was he (Tarr) who went to Federal Court and succeeded in having the confiscated gambling equipment turned to the state for destruction. Tarr said he was proud of his record on checking persons on parole and probation and also his record in juvenile cases.

Larry Bailey, 30, of Fairmont, candidate for 1st District congressman, also dueled verbally with veteran Arch A. Moore Jr., Republican, of Glen Dale, who is running for his fifth term.

Bailey criticized Rep. Moore's attendance record and attacked him for voting against the Appalachia bill.

But Rep. Moore replied he had the best voting record of any congressman from West Virginia in the last session of the Congress and had missed only two days. Rep. Moore pointed to "long and close association with the people of Hancock County, irrespective of party, and his quick service to them in Washington."

He said that West Virginia was being avoided in the ARA bill and it was his floor fight that resulted in $25 million being included in the measure for his state. During the last 23 month session, he had six bills enacted into law, Moore said.

Robert Baron, Republican candidate for state senator, denounced the state Democratic administration for increasing the sales tax from 2 per cent to 3, imposing a new state income tax and failing to generate prosperity in the state. He declared the administration's record was "closely aligned" to Sen. William Tompos.

Tompos, Democratic nominee and incumbent, said he resented being linked to the "Statehouse gang." "That's the outfit I've been fighting. There are bad Democrats as well as bad Republicans down in Charleston and I fight them all if I think they're wrong," he said. "I don't pick on the little fellow. I go after A. T. & T., and Columbia Gas. I have fought the Public Service Commission," Tompos declared.

Hancock Democrat Group Plans Rally For Candidates

Plans were mapped for a rally next week honoring state and county candidates when the New Frontier Democratic League of Hancock County met Tuesday night at the New Cumberland VFW Hall.

David Graham, social chairman, announced the rally will be held next Tuesday night at 8 at the Weirton Knights of Columbus Hall. A dance and refreshments will follow and the public may attend the free event, he said.

Guests are to include Judge Thornton Berry Jr. of the State Supreme Court, C. Donald Robertson, state attorney general; John Kelly, state treasurer; Denzil Gainer, state auditor, and Joe Burdett, secretary of state.

Joe Ziniach and his band will provide music at the dance.

About 100 attended and Mickey Mellas of Weirton, president, presided. Among the candidates present were Joe Rodak, for sheriff; Floyd Tarr, prosecuting attorney; Anthony Pirraglia, assessor; William Tompos, state senator; George Konchar, county clerk; William Graham and Jack Evans, county commissioners; George Griffith and George Tokash, House of Delegates, and Jack Thayer, for Clay District justice of the peace.

Daun Gitschier presented a check to Maylone representing the proceeds from a public corn roast held last month. The money will be for the child welfare program.

The post agreed to join with other city veterans' groups and fraternal organizations to discuss the possibility of holding a joint community Christmas party for children.

In Great Britain, the amount a candidate may spend on his campaign for office is severely controlled by law, about $2,000 for each candidate. The idea is to obviate personal wealth as an advantage.

Apple Growers In Hancock Need Hands To Aid Harvest

Hancock County orchardmen have experienced difficulty this year in finding enough workers to harvest the crops, reports Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent.

"It's been almost like wartimes to get people for orchard work this year," Johnson said. Hillcrest Farms near Chester has been short of pickers, along with other orchards in the county.

The price for picking apples in the past has been 15 cents a bushel. But this year, the price is up to 18 and 20 cents. "An experienced worker can pick 75 to 150 bushels a day, depending on the trees and the fullness of the crop. To pick apples, one must be able to work on a ladder and support 30 to 40 pounds of apples over one's shoulder," Johnson said.

"Automation continues to progress in orchard work. But we still have to pick them by hand. Hillcrest has installed a new washing and grading line at the apple house which reduces the number of employes, grades more accurately, washes the fruit better, and cuts bruising almost to zero."

Forklifts with pallets and conveyors move the fruit to the grader and into storage or the trailer truck to market. Crates go from a conveyor into a tank of water that floats the apples out of the crates to eliminate dumping and brusing of the fruit.

The empty crates move out on a conveyor line while the apples go through a cleaning and drying operation. Then the fruit moves onto a grader. Each apple goes into a plastic cup that grades according to weight.

But off-color and damaged fruit still must be removed by hand. Johnson said apples now in season include Grimes Golden, Cortlands, Jonathan, Golden and Red Delicious.

"Rome Beauty, Staymen Winesap, and Willow Twig are the big volume crop mostly yet to be picked," the agricultural agent said.

Why Pay Twice? You already pay taxes to support a generous federal-state medical program for those over 65 who need it.
Why pay again for a plan that isn't needed?

Surprised? Chances are you never heard of Ohio's Aid for the Aged regular Health Care Program and special Health Care Program. We call it Health Opportunity Program for the Elderly.

These programs enable individual states, with federal assistance, to guarantee every elderly person who needs it the health care he or she requires. Thousands of people every day are being helped by their broad benefits.

Private enterprise, physicians, voluntary and private health insurance all have combined to enable our senior citizens to protect themselves against costs of illness. Three out of five of this age group already have provided themselves with this protection.

TO HELP THOSE WHO NEED HELP, sound federal-state health care plans already exist. Why add another tax?

Yet the supporters of the proposed Medicare Tax would have you believe that its passage is urgent . . . that persons over 65 are deprived of needed medical care because they can't pay for it.

So why pay twice? Find out about the health program you're already supporting. For information in your area, ask your doctor or consult your local medical society.

Apple Growers In Hancock Need Hands To Aid Harvest

Hancock County orchardmen have experienced difficulty this year in finding enough workers to harvest the crops, reports Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent.

"It's been almost like wartimes to get people for orchard work this year," Johnson said. Hillcrest Farms near Chester has been short of pickers, along with other orchards in the county.

The price for picking apples in the past has been 15 cents a bushel. But this year, the price is up to 18 and 20 cents. "An experienced worker can pick 75 to 150 bushels a day, depending on the trees and the fullness of the crop. To pick apples, one must be able to work on a ladder and support 30 to 40 pounds of apples over one's shoulder," Johnson said.

"Automation continues to progress in orchard work. But we still have to pick them by hand. Hillcrest has installed a new washing and grading line at the apple house which reduces the number of employes, grades more accurately, washes the fruit better, and cuts bruising almost to zero."

Forklifts with pallets and conveyors move the fruit to the grader and into storage or the trailer truck to market. Crates go from a conveyor into a tank of water that floats the apples out of the crates to eliminate dumping and brusing of the fruit.

The empty crates move out on a conveyor line while the apples go through a cleaning and drying operation. Then the fruit moves onto a grader. Each apple goes into a plastic cup that grades according to weight.

But off-color and damaged fruit still must be removed by hand. Johnson said apples now in season include Grimes Golden, Cortlands, Jonathan, Golden and Red Delicious.

"Rome Beauty, Staymen Winesap, and Willow Twig are the big volume crop mostly yet to be picked," the agricultural agent said.

Yankees Pin Hopes On Bouton

Simmons Twirls For Cards

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The proud New York Yankees, straining to avert their second straight World Series disaster for the first time in 42 years, were hoping for a near miracle as they faced the front-running St. Louis Cardinals in the do-or-die sixth game today.

Down three games to two — just one away from elimination — Yankee Manager Yogi Berra pinned his hopes on the right arm of 25-year-old Jim Bouton in a return mound engagement with Cardinal veteran southpaw Curt Simmons.

The two hooked up in the third game with Bouton the winner, 2-1, on Mickey Mantle's dramatic ninth-inning home run at Yankee Stadium. The blast came off reliever Barney Schultz' first pitch.

Even should the Yankees win today, a Herculean task still faces the American League champions. They are admittedly shy on pitching because of the uncertainty of Whitey Ford's physical condition.

On the other hand, Cardinal Manager Johnny Keane's pitching is in fine shape.

Simmons, of course, will be pitching with his normal four-day rest. Should a seventh game be necessary, Keane has the choice of one of three pitchers — southpaw Ray Sadecki, right-hander Roger Craig or Bob Gibson, who struck out 13 in a brilliant winning performance in the fifth game Monday.

Ford's condition has Berra worried. The veteran southpaw, who aggravated an old heel injury in an opening game loss in St. Louis, hasn't worked since. He did no throwing at all in New York's workout at Yankee Stadium Tuesday and must remain a doubtful quantity.

If Ford cannot make it, young Mel Stottlemyre undoubtedly will get the pitching nod in the seventh game, if needed. The 22-year-old rookie right-hander pitched a tough seven innings Monday but wasn't charged with the 5-2 10-inning defeat.

It was his second fine effort, coming four days after he had beaten the Cardinals 8-3 in the second game.

A defeat on top of their four straight losses to the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1963 would mark the first time the Yankees have lost two post-season classics in succession since their back-to-back losses to the New York Giants in 1921 and 1922. Since then they've won 20 out of 26.

The Cardinals haven't fared badly in World Series play, either. A victory would give them seven of 10 and three of five against the Yankees.

Keane, whose Cardinals engaged in a 1½-hour workout at Busch Stadium Tuesday, continued to play it cautious, refusing to make any predictions. He did acknowledge, however, that the Cards were now in the best shape they've been in the entire Series.

"Knowing we can win by taking one of two is bound to give us the edge," he said. "But I'm not underestimating the Yankees. They're a tough ball club.

"We've gotten the breaks so far but we've taken advantage of them. We've also had a few bad breaks but we've overcome them. The Yankees haven't.

"Take Tom Tresh's game-tying home run off Gibson in the ninth inning Monday. That was enough to knock out almost any club. But we bounced right back with three runs in the next inning.

"It's a good thing we did. I don't think Gibson could have pitched much longer. He was a tired young man at the end."

Keane had hoped Julian Javier would be recovered sufficiently from his hip injury to return to the line-up for the sixth game. He had to abandon the idea, however, when his star second baseman complained of pain when he swung a bat.

Javier hasn't played at all except for two innings in a substitute role in the opener.

Meantime, young Dal Maxvill has surprised everybody with his fine all-around play as Javier's substitute. The St. Louis lad has not only fielded well but has contributed several timely hits which figured in run scoring.

Oak Glen Shooting For 5th Straight

Potters Seek 4th Victory On Visit To Big Red

Once-beaten Oak Glen returns to action against dangerous Follansbee after a mid-season rest, and Wellsville High takes on undefeated Mingo in top district games this weekend.

Oak Glen guns for its fifth straight victory Friday night at Newell against a team that pulled an early season upset of Weirton, 13-12. The invaders own a 2-3 record.

SHUT-OUT in a bruising game with East Liverpool last week, Wellsville's Tigers hope to turn loose fullback Chris Thornton against unbeaten but once-tied Mingo for the annual Homecoming fray Friday night at Nicholson Stadium.

Thornton, 180 - pound senior, was contained in the East Liverpool game while Leetonia's Mel VanFossan got a touchdown and a conversion in an upset of Minerva to recapture first place in the district scoring race.

THORNTON, however, had the fans buzzing with a tremendous defensive performance against the Potters. He's Wellsville's first strong candidate for All-Ohio honors and has the speed and desire to go with his size.

Coach Bob Starkey's Oak Glen Golden Bears squeezed past Triadelphia, 7-6, two weeks ago before taking advantage of an open date on their schedule.

Follansbee, coached by Denny Williams, shows victories over Weirton, 13-12, and Warwood, 31-6. The Steelmen have lost to Wintersville, 49-0; Magnolia, 6-0, and Mingo, 14-7.

—:—

MINGO shows a 4-0-1 record with victories over Jefferson Union, 30-6; Smithfield, 26-6, Follansbee, 14-7, and Brilliant, 14-0. The Indians of Coach George Zatezalo tied Shadyside, 20-20. Mingo has been making a habit of beating teams observing homecoming. The Indians ruined the celebrations of Follansbee and Brilliant two weeks running.

Bob Davis, 183 - pound senior fullback, will lead the Indians against Wellsville.

ELSEWHERE, East Liverpool will visit Steubenville Big Red, Stanton Local hosts Springfield of Mahoning County in a homecoming game, Midland goes to Rochester, Leetonia visits Columbiana, Lisbon is at Sebring, and Canton Timken at Salem, all on Friday.

On Saturday, East Palestine takes its 4-1 record to Beaver Local, South Side visits Laurel, Southern Local goes to Crestview and United hosts Jackson-Milton.

The Potters may rule a slight favorite over Big Red (3-2) if Coach Bob McNea's injury problems on the line are concluded. Quarterback Bob Maltarich looked plenty sharp against Wellsville, especially in the important role of disguising the football and in running.

Mills Pulls Upset In Distance Run

Americans Push Medal List To 14

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

TOKYO (AP) — Courageous Billy Mills, a Marine from Coffeyville, Kan., won the 10,000-meter run today in one of the greatest upsets in the history of the Olympic Games, and Ken Sitzberger led a 1-2-3 American sweep of medals in springboard diving.

Mills, a 26-year-old crew-cut Marine lieutenant, was timed in an Olympic record 28:24.4 after pulling away from world record-holder Ron Clarke. It was the first time the United States had ever won at 10,000 meters.

Sitzberger, from River Forest, Ill., was third going into the final round but put on a dazzling display of free diving and won the springboard competition with a total of 159.90 points. It was the United States' 10th straight victory in the event.

Frank Gorman, a naval officer from New York who had led all the way, finished second with 157.63 points and Larry Andreason of Los Alamitos, Calif., was third with 143.77 points.

The sweep, plus Mills' triumph, pushed the U.S. harvest of Olympic hardware to 14 medals, four gold, six silver, four bronze.

Mills, considered far out of his class against one of the finest 10,000-meter fields ever assembled, stayed with the leaders all the way, took the lead to stay on the 20th lap of the six-mile-plus test of courage and endurance, then sprinted home, winning by about four yards.

In the vast confusion surrounding the finish, Clarke, the Australian world record-holder, was believed to have finished second, but the official results placed him third behind Tunisia's virtually unknown Mohamed Gammoudi.

Gammoudi was timed in 28:24.8, Clarke exactly one second slower.

Mills was considered a rank outsider in the field while the

U.S. Cagers Gain Easy 83-28 Win

TOKYO (AP) — Henry Iba, one of basketball's sternest task-masters, had some kind words to say about his U.S. Olympic team. But even the rare praise had to be considered a major understatement in view of developments.

The United States won its latest game, against little Uruguay, 83-28 Wednesday night.

"Not bad," admitted Iba. "Not bad at all."

"I thought they played a real good defensive game and handled the ball very well."

The United States, unbeaten in basketball since the sport was added to the Olympics in 1936, hit 19 of its first 26 shots, flashed out to a whopping 50-13 halftime margin and coasted in from there.

The starting unit was composed of Bill Bradley, Princeton; Jerry Shipp, Bartlesville, Okla.; Lucious Jackson, Pan American University; Walt Hazzard, UCLA, and Joe Caldwell, Arizona State.

Caldwell led all scorers with 16 points, Bradley and Jim (Bad News) Barnes of Texas Western each had 12.

The United States is idle Thursday, and Iba planned a brief practice session. Their next game is against Yugoslavia. Russia, expected to be the United States' top opposition, also is 4-0 after an 83-63 triumph over Puerto Rico.

Series' Sluggers Have Low Marks

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The World Series swings back to Busch Stadium with its friendly fences today and not one second too early for the big sluggers like Bill White, Roger Maris, Ken Boyer and Lou Brock.

The batting averages of the proven long ball hitters are truly shocking after the first five games. St. Louis, with a 3-2 edge in games, has five of its eight regulars hitting .200 or less. The New York Yankees, supposedly a bundle of muscle, have four starters batting under .200.

White, a substantial home run (21) and runs batted in (102) man during the regular season, is batting .053 with only one hit in 19 at bats. Kenny Boyer, despite his grand-slam homer that won Sunday's game, has only three hits in 19 trips and a .158 average.

Brock, the slugger who came to the Cardinals from Chicago in the deal that made the Red Birds a real pennant contender, has a .182 average.

Over on the Yankee side, Maris, the 61-home- run hitter of 1961, does not have an extra base hit or a run batted in and is hitting .182. Joe Pepitone, normally a power hitter, has a .167 mark.

What is going on?

Johnny Keane, the Cardinal manager, offers a partial explanation for the weak hitting in the last three games in New York.

"Yankee Stadium is a tough park to hit in," said Keane. "The shadows at this time of year make it difficult. Of course, that big center field gives the fielders plenty of room to roam and catch fly balls that might have been hit out of our park."

The shadows didn't seem to bother Tim McCarver much. The Cardinals' young catcher leads all the hitters with a plump .471 average. Bobby Richardson, .391, Mickey Mantle, .353, and Elston Howard, .313, are the three Yanks over the .300 level.

3 Games Scheduled In Midget Grid Loop

Three games are on tap this week with one Thursday and two Sunday in the Midget Football League.

The Red Devils play at Chester Thursday night at 7:30 while Sunday's games show the Vikings playing at Glenmoor and the Red Devils at Wellsville.

Last week Chester posted a 41-0 win over Northside while the Vikings edged Wellsville, 14-12. Glenmoor and the Red Devils battled to a 0-0 tie.

Clay Predicts 9th Round KO Of Liston

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, still as talkative as ever, held a press conference Tuesday and predicted he would knock out Sonny Liston in the ninth round when they meet in Boston Nov. 16.

Clay said he would beat Liston, "Just like Johnson is gonna beat Goldwater," and said the fight would end in the second minute of the ninth round.

Clay won the title last Feb. 25 at Miami Beach when Liston failed to come out for the seventh round. Before that fight, Clay said he would win in eight.

Clay said Liston would last a little longer in their rematch "because he's in better condition."

Yankees Pin Hopes On Bouton

Simmons Twirls For Cards

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The proud New York Yankees, straining to avert their second straight World Series disaster for the first time in 42 years, were hoping for a near miracle as they faced the front-running St. Louis Cardinals in the do-or-die sixth game today.

Down three games to two — just one away from elimination — Yankee Manager Yogi Berra pinned his hopes on the right arm of 25-year-old Jim Bouton in a return mound engagement with Cardinal veteran southpaw Curt Simmons.

The two hooked up in the third game with Bouton the winner, 2-1, on Mickey Mantle's dramatic ninth-inning home run at Yankee Stadium. The blast came off reliever Barney Schultz' first pitch.

Even should the Yankees win today, a Herculean task still faces the American League champions. They are admittedly shy on pitching because of the uncertainty of Whitey Ford's physical condition.

On the other hand, Cardinal Manager Johnny Keane's pitching is in fine shape.

Simmons, of course, will be pitching with his normal four-day rest. Should a seventh game be necessary, Keane has the choice of one of three pitchers — southpaw Ray Sadecki, right-hander Roger Craig or Bob Gibson, who struck out 13 in a brilliant winning performance in the fifth game Monday.

Ford's condition has Berra worried. The veteran southpaw, who aggravated an old heel injury in an opening game loss in St. Louis, hasn't worked since. He did no throwing at all in New York's workout at Yankee Stadium Tuesday and must remain a doubtful quantity.

If Ford cannot make it, young Mel Stottlemyre undoubtedly will get the pitching nod in the seventh game, if needed. The 22-year-old rookie right-hander pitched a tough seven innings Monday but wasn't charged with the 5-2 10-inning defeat.

It was his second fine effort, coming four days after he had beaten the Cardinals 8-3 in the second game.

A defeat on top of their four straight losses to the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1963 would mark the first time the Yankees have lost two post-season classics in succession since their back-to-back losses to the New York Giants in 1921 and 1922. Since then they've won 20 out of 26.

The Cardinals haven't fared badly in World Series play, either. A victory would give them seven of 10 and three of five against the Yankees.

Keane, whose Cardinals engaged in a 1½-hour workout at Busch Stadium Tuesday, continued to play it cautious, refusing to make any predictions. He did acknowledge, however, that the Cards were now in the best shape they've been in the entire Series.

"Knowing we can win by taking one of two is bound to give us the edge," he said. "But I'm not underestimating the Yankees. They're a tough ball club.

"We've gotten the breaks so far but we've taken advantage of them. We've also had a few bad breaks but we've overcome them. The Yankees haven't.

"Take Tom Tresh's game-tying home run off Gibson in the ninth inning Monday. That was enough to knock out almost any club. But we bounced right back with three runs in the next inning.

"It's a good thing we did. I don't think Gibson could have pitched much longer. He was a tired young man at the end."

Keane had hoped Julian Javier would be recovered sufficiently from his hip injury to return to the line-up for the sixth game. He had to abandon the idea, however, when his star second baseman complained of pain when he swung a bat.

Javier hasn't played at all except for two innings in a substitute role in the opener.

Meantime, young Dal Maxvill has surprised everybody with his fine all-around play as Javier's substitute. The St. Louis lad has not only fielded well but has contributed several timely hits which figured in run scoring.

Oak Glen Shooting For 5th Straight

Potters Seek 4th Victory On Visit To Big Red

Once-beaten Oak Glen returns to action against dangerous Follansbee after a mid-season rest, and Wellsville High takes on undefeated Mingo in top district games this weekend.

Oak Glen guns for its fifth straight victory Friday night at Newell against a team that pulled an early season upset of Weirton, 13-12. The invaders own a 2-3 record.

SHUT-OUT in a bruising game with East Liverpool last week, Wellsville's Tigers hope to turn loose fullback Chris Thornton against unbeaten but once-tied Mingo for the annual Homecoming fray Friday night at Nicholson Stadium.

Thornton, 180 - pound senior, was contained in the East Liverpool game while Leetonia's Mel VanFossan got a touchdown and a conversion in an upset of Minerva to recapture first place in the district scoring race.

THORNTON, however, had the fans buzzing with a tremendous defensive performance against the Potters. He's Wellsville's first strong candidate for All-Ohio honors and has the speed and desire to go with his size.

Coach Bob Starkey's Oak Glen Golden Bears squeezed past Triadelphia, 7-6, two weeks ago before taking advantage of an open date on their schedule.

Follansbee, coached by Denny Williams, shows victories over Weirton, 13-12, and Warwood, 31-6. The Steelmen have lost to Wintersville, 49-0; Magnolia, 6-0, and Mingo, 14-7.

—:—

MINGO shows a 4-0-1 record with victories over Jefferson Union, 30-6; Smithfield, 26-6, Follansbee, 14-7, and Brilliant, 14-0. The Indians of Coach George Zatezalo tied Shadyside, 20-20. Mingo has been making a habit of beating teams observing homecoming. The Indians ruined the celebrations of Follansbee and Brilliant two weeks running.

Bob Davis, 183 - pound senior fullback, will lead the Indians against Wellsville.

ELSEWHERE, East Liverpool will visit Steubenville Big Red, Stanton Local hosts Springfield of Mahoning County in a homecoming game, Midland goes to Rochester, Leetonia visits Columbiana, Lisbon is at Sebring, and Canton Timken at Salem, all on Friday.

On Saturday, East Palestine takes its 4-1 record to Beaver Local, South Side visits Laurel, Southern Local goes to Crestview and United hosts Jackson-Milton.

The Potters may rule a slight favorite over Big Red (3-2) if Coach Bob McNea's injury problems on the line are concluded. Quarterback Bob Maltarich looked plenty sharp against Wellsville, especially in the important role of disguising the football and in running.

Mills Pulls Upset In Distance Run

Americans Push Medal List To 14

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

TOKYO (AP) — Courageous Billy Mills, a Marine from Coffeyville, Kan., won the 10,000-meter run today in one of the greatest upsets in the history of the Olympic Games, and Ken Sitzberger led a 1-2-3 American sweep of medals in springboard diving.

Mills, a 26-year-old crew-cut Marine lieutenant, was timed in an Olympic record 28:24.4 after pulling away from world record-holder Ron Clarke. It was the first time the United States had ever won at 10,000 meters.

Sitzberger, from River Forest, Ill., was third going into the final round but put on a dazzling display of free diving and won the springboard competition with a total of 159.90 points. It was the United States' 10th straight victory in the event.

Frank Gorman, a naval officer from New York who had led all the way, finished second with 157.63 points and Larry Andreason of Los Alamitos, Calif., was third with 143.77 points.

The sweep, plus Mills' triumph, pushed the U.S. harvest of Olympic hardware to 14 medals, four gold, six silver, four bronze.

Mills, considered far out of his class against one of the finest 10,000-meter fields ever assembled, stayed with the leaders all the way, took the lead to stay on the 20th lap of the six-mile-plus test of courage and endurance, then sprinted home, winning by about four yards.

In the vast confusion surrounding the finish, Clarke, the Australian world record-holder, was believed to have finished second, but the official results placed him third behind Tunisia's virtually unknown Mohamed Gammoudi.

Gammoudi was timed in 28:24.8, Clarke exactly one second slower.

U.S. Cagers Gain Easy 83-28 Win

TOKYO (AP) — Henry Iba, one of basketball's sternest task-masters, had some kind words to say about his U.S. Olympic team. But even the rare praise had to be considered a major understatement in view of developments.

The United States won its latest game, against little Uruguay, 83-28 Wednesday night.

"Not bad," admitted Iba. "Not bad at all."

"I thought they played a real good defensive game and handled the ball very well."

The United States, unbeaten in basketball since the sport was added to the Olympics in 1936, hit 19 of its first 26 shots, flashed out to a whopping 50-13 halftime margin and coasted in from there.

The starting unit was composed of Bill Bradley, Princeton; Jerry Shipp, Bartlesville, Okla.; Lucious Jackson, Pan American University; Walt Hazzard, UCLA, and Joe Caldwell, Arizona State.

Caldwell led all scorers with 16 points, Bradley and Jim (Bad News) Barnes of Texas Western each had 12.

The United States is idle Thursday, and Iba planned a brief practice session. Their next game is against Yugoslavia. Russia, expected to be the United States' top opposition, also is 4-0 after an 83-63 triumph over Puerto Rico.

Series' Sluggers Have Low Marks

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The World Series swings back to Busch Stadium with its friendly fences today and not one second too early for the big sluggers like Bill White, Roger Maris, Ken Boyer and Lou Brock.

The batting averages of the proven long ball hitters are truly shocking after the first five games. St. Louis, with a 3-2 edge in games, has five of its eight regulars hitting .200 or less. The New York Yankees, supposedly a bundle of muscle, have four starters batting under .200.

White, a substantial home run (21) and runs batted in (102) man during the regular season, is batting .053 with only one hit in 19 at bats. Kenny Boyer, despite his grand-slam homer that won Sunday's game, has only three hits in 19 trips and a .158 average.

Brock, the slugger who came to the Cardinals from Chicago in the deal that made the Red Birds a real pennant contender, has a .182 average.

Over on the Yankee side, Maris, the 61-home- run hitter of 1961, does not have an extra base hit or a run batted in and is hitting .182. Joe Pepitone, normally a power hitter, has a .167 mark.

What is going on?

Johnny Keane, the Cardinal manager, offers a partial explanation for the weak hitting in the last three games in New York.

"Yankee Stadium is a tough park to hit in," said Keane. "The shadows at this time of year make it difficult. Of course, that big center field gives the fielders plenty of room to roam and catch fly balls that might have been hit out of our park."

The shadows didn't seem to bother Tim McCarver much. The Cardinals' young catcher leads all the hitters with a plump .471 average. Bobby Richardson, .391, Mickey Mantle, .353, and Elston Howard, .313, are the three Yanks over the .300 level.

3 Games Scheduled In Midget Grid Loop

Three games are on tap this week with one Thursday and two Sunday in the Midget Football League.

The Red Devils play at Chester Thursday night at 7:30 while Sunday's games show the Vikings playing at Glenmoor and the Red Devils at Wellsville.

Last week Chester posted a 41-0 win over Northside while the Vikings edged Wellsville, 14-12. Glenmoor and the Red Devils battled to a 0-0 tie.

Pilgrim Leads Potter Runners To 11th Win

With lanky Jon Pilgrim showing the way around the course again, the ELHS cross country team handed Ambridge a 23-32 setback Tuesday afternoon at the Country Club.

Coach Frank Chan called the victory the best team effort with Pilgrim finishing first in a time of 9:36 over the two - mile distance.

Mike Kastrounis of Ambridge was second in 10:13 while Bill Loy, a Potter sophomore ran third, Joe Massey was fifth, Mike Kelly sixth and Joe Golden eighth.

East Liverpool's jayvee team dropped a 27-28 meet with Ambridge.

The Potters will go to the Wheeling Invitational meet Saturday. The record now stands at 11 wins, one tie and two defeats.

Clay Predicts 9th Round KO Of Liston

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, still as talkative as ever, held a press conference Tuesday and predicted he would knock out Sonny Liston in the ninth round when they meet in Boston Nov. 16.

Clay said he would beat Liston, "Just like Johnson is gonna beat Goldwater," and said the fight would end in the second minute of the ninth round.

Clay won the title last Feb. 25 at Miami Beach when Liston failed to come out for the seventh round. Before that fight, Clay said he would win in eight.

Clay said Liston would last a little longer in their rematch "because he's in better condition."

top U.S. hope was little Gerry Lindgren, 18-year-old Spokane, Wash., sensation.

Lindgren, however, was badly hobbled by an ankle he twisted just two days earlier in practice. He competed, but finished far back in the pack.

Mills' amazing performance dominated this fourth day of the 18th Olympiad in which the United States pushed an expected number of athletes through a variety of track and swimming heats and trials.

Prboably the biggest disappointment came in the javelin where Norway's world record holder, Perje Pedersen, failed to make the finals. The event was won by Pauli Nevala, a Finn, with a throw of 271 feet, 2½ inches. Gergely Kulcsar of Hungary was second and Yan Lusis of Russia third.

England's Mary Rand broke the world record with a leap of 22 feet, 2¼ inches in winning the women's broad jump. Irna Kirszenstei of Poland was second and Tatyna Schelkanova of Russia, whose record Miss Rand broke, third.

The United States was not expected to place in either event.

Yankee runners, however, placed a maximum complement of three in two other track semi-finals, the 100 meters and the 400-meter hurdles.

Bob Hayes, the Florida A&M flash; Trenton Jackson of Rochester, N.Y., and Mel Pender, a stocky Army sergeant from Atlanta, Ga., went through two rounds of 100 meter trials, with Hayes, best time through steady drizzle a 10.3, well off his best performance of 10.1.

Rex Cawley, Los Angeles; Billy Hardin, Baton Rouge, La., whose father won the event in the 1936 Games, and Jay Luck, a Yale graduate, qualified for the finals in the 400-meter hurdles, with Cawley's time of 50.8 seconds the best among the Americans.

The U.S. basketball team, which has never lost in Olympic competition, racked up an 83-28 rout of little Uruguay, its fourth straight in Tokyo.

Holland won a gold medal in the cycling time trial road race and favored Italy was second.

Oklahoma's McAdams Named Top Lineman

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — "I'd feel lots better if we had won the game," said Oklahoma University's Carl McAdams when asked how it felt to be named The Associated Press' Lineman of the Week.

McAdams, 6-foot-3, 215-pound center-linebacker, referred to the Sooners' 28-7 loss to Texas last Saturday.

In that intersectional contest, McAdams, a junior, made 13 unassisted tackles and helped in five others. He beat out Dwight Kelley of Ohio State for the weekly award. Kelley made 10 tackles in the Buckeyes' 26-0 thrashing of Illinois.

After Syracuse sophomore back Floyd Little of New Haven, Conn., scored five touchdowns, Kansas Coach Jack Mitchell said: "It was the greatest performance by a back that I have ever seen."

Ex-Lawyer Sentenced

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ex-lawyer Robert R. Fricke, 40, has been sentenced to one to 10 years in prison. He pleaded guilty April 20 to embezzling $17,232 from the Tannery Savings—Loan Co., for which he was the attorney.

Texas, Buckeyes Rated Favorites

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

TOKYO (AP) — The emblem of the Olympics is five interlocking rings, representing five continents. That gives any football selector plenty of room in which to run around — in circles.

Last week's average of .661 made the season's record .670.

From a slightly Oriental viewpoint, here are the coming weekend's winners:

Texas over Arkansas: If there is one college football team that can jump from the frying pan into the fire, week after week, it is this year's Longhorn aggregation.

Ohio State over Southern California: Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State doesn't concentrate on non-conference foes but he will want to show the television viewers his new off-tackle play. Tom Barrington is a handy-dandy.

Alabama over Tennessee: The Volunteers have nobody who can equal Joe Namath.

Notre Dame over UCLA: The Irish line suddenly has become respectable.

Michigan over Purdue: The Wolverines have oodles and oodles of talent, including quarterback Bob Timberlake.

Nebraska over Kansas State: The Huskers can run and run and run.

Kentucky over Louisiana State: The Wildcats, thin in numbers, will be trying to make up for that awful thumping given them by Florida State.

Auburn over Georgia Tech: If Jimmy Sidle and his playmates are going to hit high gear this year, this should be the game.

Syracuse over Penn State: Syracuse didn't issue the same number 44 to halfback Floyd Little that previously had been worn by Jimmy Brown and Ernie Davis just because he passed freshman English.

Navy over California: Wayne Hardin's crew gets back on the right track.

Picking the others in a hurry:

SOUTH: Davidson over Richmond, North Carolina State over Duke, Florida over South Carolina, Furman over Presbyterian, Vanderbilt over George Washington, Florida State over Georgia, Mississippi State over Southern Mississippi, Pittsburgh over Miami, North Carolina over Maryland, Mississippi over Tulane, West Virginia over Virginia Tech, Army over Virginia, Clemson over Wake Forest, William and Mary over The Citadel.

MIDWEST: Michigan State over Indiana, Iowa State over Colorado, Oklahoma over Kansas State, Tulsa over Louisville, Illinois over Minnesota, Northwestern over Miami of Ohio, Wichita over Detroit, Wisconsin over Iowa.

SOUTHWEST: Texas Tech over Baylor, North Texas State over New Mexico State, Rice over Southern Methodist, Texas Christian over Texas A. & M, Memphis State over West Texas State.

FAR WEST: Missouri over Air Force, Brigham Young over Pacific, Utah over Colorado State, Utah State over New Mexico, Oregon over Arizona, Oregon State over Idaho, Washington State over San Jose State, Wyoming over Texas Western.

Marshall End Named MAC's Top Lineman

By HAL PARIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bob Pruett, a 190-pound end from Marshall who caught the longest touchdown pass in conference history, is the Mid-American Conference Lineman of the Week.

The 6-foot senior from Beckley, W. Va., grabbed two scoring pitches in Marshall's 14-12 victory over Buffalo last Saturday. The record-breaker, thrown by quarterback Howie Miller, covered 85 yards.

Also tabbed for honors today was Ohio University fullback Wash Lyons, a rookie chosen as Back of the Week.

Lyons stormed for 114 yards in 12 carries, including one scamper that covered 51 yards for a touchdown, as the Bobcats clipped Toledo, 21-12.

All told, Pruett latched onto six passes good for 193 yards. His other score came on a 56-yard aerial from Miller.

Pruett, an education major who also has letters in track and wrestling, figured in three tackles on defense and nine assists.

An All-MAC honorable mention choice last year, Pruett is married and has one son.

Lyons, a hard-driving soph from Ashtabula, is currently the second leading rusher in the league with a 5.3 average. The 6-1, 177-pounder has piled up 323 yards in 61 carries and trails only Joe Kozar of Miami who has garnered 361 yards in 92 tries.

The Yankees in the American League and the Cardinals and Reds in the National League ordered World Series uniforms long before the season ended. But the Phillies did not order new ones.

Amateur Golf Dates Are Told By Dr. Cloran

Dr. A. J. Cloran of Calcutta, city dentist, has returned from attending the first meeting of the Board of Governors of the Ohio Golf Association in Columbus when dates were set for four major amateur golf tournaments in the Buckeye State.

Dr. Cloran and Bob Stranahan of Toledo, a brother of Professional Golf Association star Frank Stranahan, are new members of the Board of Governors.

The group set dates and places for these tournaments:

Seniors tournament — Scioto Country Club in Columbus, June 17-18; Juniors tournament—Lancaster Country Club, June 29-30; Pre-seniors tournament — Canton Brookside Country Club, June 8-9, and Ohio Amateur tournament — Mansfield Westbrook Country Club, July 12-18.

Dr. Cloran was runner - up the past year in the Ohio pre-seniors tournament. The Board also decided to hold open house in the spring at the Chick Evans Caddy Scholarship Home at Ohio State University in Columbus.

Carolina League writers voted future Yankee Steve Whitaker "the best professional prospect" in the circuit. He's a 21-year-old southpaw swinging outfielder from Tacoma, Wash.

Ex-Lawyer Sentenced

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ex-lawyer Robert R. Fricke, 40, has been sentenced to one to 10 years in prison. He pleaded guilty April 20 to embezzling $17,232 from the Tannery Savings—Loan Co., for which he was the attorney.

Texas, Buckeyes Rated Favorites

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

TOKYO (AP) — The emblem of the Olympics is five interlocking rings, representing five continents. That gives any football selector plenty of room in which to run around — in circles.

Last week's average of .661 made the season's record .670.

From a slightly Oriental viewpoint, here are the coming weekend's winners:

Texas over Arkansas: If there is one college football team that can jump from the frying pan into the fire, week after week, it is this year's Longhorn aggregation.

Ohio State over Southern California: Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State doesn't concentrate on non-conference foes but he will want to show the television viewers his new off-tackle play. Tom Barrington is a handy-dandy.

Alabama over Tennessee: The Volunteers have nobody who can equal Joe Namath.

Notre Dame over UCLA: The Irish line suddenly has become respectable.

Michigan over Purdue: The Wolverines have oodles and oodles of talent, including quarterback Bob Timberlake.

Nebraska over Kansas State: The Huskers can run and run and run.

Kentucky over Louisiana State: The Wildcats, thin in numbers, will be trying to make up for that awful thumping given them by Florida State.

Auburn over Georgia Tech: If Jimmy Sidle and his playmates are going to hit high gear this year, this should be the game.

Syracuse over Penn State: Syracuse didn't issue the same number 44 to halfback Floyd Little that previously had been worn by Jimmy Brown and Ernie Davis just because he passed freshman English.

Navy over California: Wayne Hardin's crew gets back on the right track.

Picking the others in a hurry:

SOUTH: Davidson over Richmond, North Carolina State over Duke, Florida over South Carolina, Furman over Presbyterian, Vanderbilt over George Washington, Florida State over Georgia, Mississippi State over Southern Mississippi, Pittsburgh over Miami, North Carolina over Maryland, Mississippi over Tulane, West Virginia over Virginia Tech, Army over Virginia, Clemson over Wake Forest, William and Mary over The Citadel.

MIDWEST: Michigan State over Indiana, Iowa State over Colorado, Oklahoma over Kansas State, Tulsa over Louisville, Illinois over Minnesota, Northwestern over Miami of Ohio, Wichita over Detroit, Wisconsin over Iowa.

SOUTHWEST: Texas Tech over Baylor, North Texas State over New Mexico State, Rice over Southern Methodist, Texas Christian over Texas A. & M, Memphis State over West Texas State.

FAR WEST: Missouri over Air Force, Brigham Young over Pacific, Utah over Colorado State, Utah State over New Mexico, Oregon over Arizona, Oregon State over Idaho, Washington State over San Jose State, Wyoming over Texas Western.

Marshall End Named MAC's Top Lineman

By HAL PARIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bob Pruett, a 190-pound end from Marshall who caught the longest touchdown pass in conference history, is the Mid-American Conference Lineman of the Week.

The 6-foot senior from Beckley, W. Va., grabbed two scoring pitches in Marshall's 14-12 victory over Buffalo last Saturday. The record-breaker, thrown by quarterback Howie Miller, covered 85 yards.

Also tabbed for honors today was Ohio University fullback Wash Lyons, a rookie chosen as Back of the Week.

Lyons stormed for 114 yards in 12 carries, including one scamper that covered 51 yards for a touchdown, as the Bobcats clipped Toledo, 21-12.

All told, Pruett latched onto six passes good for 193 yards. His other score came on a 56-yard aerial from Miller.

Pruett, an education major who also has letters in track and wrestling, figured in three tackles on defense and nine assists.

An All-MAC honorable mention choice last year, Pruett is married and has one son.

Lyons, a hard-driving soph from Ashtabula, is currently the second leading rusher in the league with a 5.3 average. The 6-1, 177-pounder has piled up 323 yards in 61 carries and trails only Joe Kozar of Miami who has garnered 361 yards in 92 tries.

The Yankees in the American League and the Cardinals and Reds in the National League ordered World Series uniforms long before the season ended. But the Phillies did not order new ones.

Amateur Golf Dates Are Told By Dr. Cloran

Dr. A. J. Cloran of Calcutta, city dentist, has returned from attending the first meeting of the Board of Governors of the Ohio Golf Association in Columbus when dates were set for four major amateur golf tournaments in the Buckeye State.

Dr. Cloran and Bob Stranahan of Toledo, a brother of Professional Golf Association star Frank Stranahan, are new members of the Board of Governors.

The group set dates and places for these tournaments:

Seniors tournament — Scioto Country Club in Columbus, June 17-18; Juniors tournament—Lancaster Country Club, June 29-30; Pre-seniors tournament — Canton Brookside Country Club, June 8-9, and Ohio Amateur tournament — Mansfield Westbrook Country Club, July 12-18.

Dr. Cloran was runner - up the past year in the Ohio pre-seniors tournament. The Board also decided to hold open house in the spring at the Chick Evans Caddy Scholarship Home at Ohio State University in Columbus.

Carolina League writers voted future Yankee Steve Whitaker "the best professional prospect" in the circuit. He's a 21-year-old southpaw swinging outfielder from Tacoma, Wash.

Quarterback Standing 6-5 Is Honored

By The Associated Press

When you find a tall quarterback who can pass, he's an asset to any football team. When you find the rare one who can pass, fake expertly and call a game that confuses the opposition, he's a prize beyond value. When a quarterback does that against a team that upset major opponents in its last two games — he's Steve Tensi.

Tensi, the 6-foot-5 Florida State senior quarterback, did all those things against Kentucky last Saturday and as a result he was named The Associated Press Back of the Week today.

Kentucky had upset Mississippi 27-21 and Auburn 20-0 before running into Florida State. But Tensi picked the Wildcat defense apart so expertly that Florida State won by a whopping 48-6 to remain undefeated.

Tensi threw two touchdowns to Fred Biletnikoff, one a 58-passes for 122 yards.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Injuries suffered Sunday in a two-car accident here proved fatal Tuesday to Mrs. Nina Immelt, 71, Columbus. She was one of 10 persons hurt in the crash.

Colts First In Offense, Figures Show

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League standings this season show about the best-balanced race you can imagine. The team offense and defense statistics back it up.

The latest statistics issued by the NFL show the Baltimore Colts as the top offensive team with Minnesota, Dallas and Philadelphia bunched not far behind. All four have shown almost equal balance between gaining on the ground and in the air.

On defense the Green Bay Pakers are No. 1 and they've been able to stop enemy passing and running about equally.

Up through Monday night's transferred game against the St. Louis Cardinals, the Colts had gained 1,718 yards with 815 by rushing and 903 by passing. The Cards, to passing team with 1,016 yards are only fourth in total offense and the Pittsburgh Steelers. No. 1 in rushing with 827 yards, are eighth overall.

Quarterback Standing 6-5 Is Honored

By The Associated Press

When you find a tall quarterback who can pass, he's an asset to any football team. When you find the rare one who can pass, fake expertly and call a game that confuses the opposition, he's a prize beyond value. When a quarterback does that against a team that upset major opponents in its last two games — he's Steve Tensi.

Tensi, the 6-foot-5 Florida State senior quarterback, did all those things against Kentucky last Saturday and as a result he was named The Associated Press Back of the Week today.

Kentucky had upset Mississippi 27-21 and Auburn 20-0 before running into Florida State. But Tensi picked the Wildcat defense apart so expertly that Florida State won by a whopping 48-6 to remain undefeated.

Tensi threw two touchdowns to Fred Biletnikoff, one a 58-passes for 122 yards.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Injuries suffered Sunday in a two-car accident here proved fatal Tuesday to Mrs. Nina Immelt, 71, Columbus. She was one of 10 persons hurt in the crash.

Colts First In Offense, Figures Show

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League standings this season show about the best-balanced race you can imagine. The team offense and defense statistics back it up.

The latest statistics issued by the NFL show the Baltimore Colts as the top offensive team with Minnesota, Dallas and Philadelphia bunched not far behind. All four have shown almost equal balance between gaining on the ground and in the air.

On defense the Green Bay Pakers are No. 1 and they've been able to stop enemy passing and running about equally.

Up through Monday night's transferred game against the St. Louis Cardinals, the Colts had gained 1,718 yards with 815 by rushing and 903 by passing. The Cards, to passing team with 1,016 yards are only fourth in total offense and the Pittsburgh Steelers. No. 1 in rushing with 827 yards, are eighth overall.

Composer Claimed

NEW YORK (AP) — Vicenzo DeCrescenzo, 89, composer of classical music, died Tuesday.

Irish Author Killed

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Dr. Richard Hayward, 72, Northern Irish author and folk singer, was killed Tuesday in an automobile accident.

New Green Stamp Center's Opening Set For Thursday

Mayor Merrill D. Hall will officiate at the grand opening Thursday morning at the new S. & H. Green Stamp redemption center, 600 Walnut St.

The ceremonies at 10 a. m. will feature a ribbon - cutting and will be followed by open house for the public the remainder of the day.

Also participating will be Safety-Service Director Robert Vodrey and G. F. Thompson of Cincinnati, district manager for the trading stamp distributor, the Sperry & Hutchinson Co.

"East Liverpool always welcomes anything which furthers the development of our city, and so we are happy to have this new downtown shopping service provided by S. & H. We regard this as another step forward for our city," Mayor Hall said.

Thompson reported that "last year my company purchased $9.4 million of Ohio manufactured products. We are pleased to find so many of these items being redeemed here in the Buckeye State."

Sperry & Hutchinson is the oldest and largest of the 300 trading stamp companies doing business in the U. S. It was established in 1896 and is the only company whose stamp plan is operated nationally, officials said. The S. & H. catalog features 1,725 items for redemption and the company services its 850 redemption facilities around the country from nine distribution centers. The home office is in New York.

Ike Given Advance Welcome By Rhodes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, scheduled to speak at a Republican rally in downtown Columbus at noon Thursday has been extended an advance welcome by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes wired Eisenhower Tuesday, welcoming him to Ohio and thanking him for "helping us fight for victory both nationally and in Ohio."

Rep. Schenck Termed In 'Good Condition'

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Miami Valley Hospital officials said U.S. Rep. Paul F. Schenck, suffering from bronchial asthma and a bad head cold, remained in good condition today.

The Republican Congressman from Ohio's 3rd District was admitted to the hospital Tuesday after the asthma attack gave him trouble breathing.

Grandad's Way

FALLS OF ROUGH, Ky. (AP)—This town of 30 or so residents remains much the same as it was during the Civil War. A flour mill still turns out water-ground corn meal and a 19th Century general store dispenses merchandise. A gravel road is the only access. Its name derives from its location on Rough River, in northwest Kentucky.

Safer At Home

NEW YORK (AP) — Safety may begin at home, but in the case of steelworkers, statistics show that they are three times safer at work than at home. Steelways, published by American Iron and Steel Institute, points out in its current issue that safe practices are taught to employes from the day they begin work.

New Green Stamp Center's Opening Set For Thursday

Mayor Merrill D. Hall will officiate at the grand opening Thursday morning at the new S. & H. Green Stamp redemption center, 600 Walnut St.

The ceremonies at 10 a. m. will feature a ribbon - cutting and will be followed by open house for the public the remainder of the day.

Also participating will be Safety-Service Director Robert Vodrey and G. F. Thompson of Cincinnati, district manager for the trading stamp distributor, the Sperry & Hutchinson Co.

"East Liverpool always welcomes anything which furthers the development of our city, and so we are happy to have this new downtown shopping service provided by S. & H. We regard this as another step forward for our city," Mayor Hall said.

Thompson reported that "last year my company purchased $9.4 million of Ohio manufactured products. We are pleased to find so many of these items being redeemed here in the Buckeye State."

Sperry & Hutchinson is the oldest and largest of the 300 trading stamp companies doing business in the U. S. It was established in 1896 and is the only company whose stamp plan is operated nationally, officials said. The S. & H. catalog features 1,725 items for redemption and the company services its 850 redemption facilities around the country from nine distribution centers. The home office is in New York.

Ike Given Advance Welcome By Rhodes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, scheduled to speak at a Republican rally in downtown Columbus at noon Thursday has been extended an advance welcome by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes wired Eisenhower Tuesday, welcoming him to Ohio and thanking him for "helping us fight for victory both nationally and in Ohio."

Rep. Schenck Termed In 'Good Condition'

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Miami Valley Hospital officials said U.S. Rep. Paul F. Schenck, suffering from bronchial asthma and a bad head cold, remained in good condition today.

The Republican Congressman from Ohio's 3rd District was admitted to the hospital Tuesday after the asthma attack gave him trouble breathing.

Grandad's Way

FALLS OF ROUGH, Ky. (AP)—This town of 30 or so residents remains much the same as it was during the Civil War. A flour mill still turns out water-ground corn meal and a 19th Century general store dispenses merchandise. A gravel road is the only access. Its name derives from its location on Rough River, in northwest Kentucky.

Safer At Home

NEW YORK (AP) — Safety may begin at home, but in the case of steelworkers, statistics show that they are three times safer at work than at home. Steelways, published by American Iron and Steel Institute, points out in its current issue that safe practices are taught to employes from the day they begin work.

Constitutional Revisions Aired By Chamber Board

A proposed general revision and updating of the constitution and bylaws of the Chamber of Commerce was explained to the Board of Trustees at its meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The explanation was given by Donald U. Honicky, chairman of a committee assigned to draft the revisions. Following approval by the board, the changes are scheduled for a vote of the general membership at the annual fall dinner meeting Oct. 28 at the Country Club.

In one of the most significant changes, the Chamber will switch from a calendar year operation to a fiscal year setup. In the new arrangement, following a pattern of many businesses and industries, its year would run from July 1 to June 30, rather than from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31.

Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the highway committee, reminded members the State Highway Department will conduct a public hearing next Tuesday at Lisbon on the path to be followed by another district stage of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Freeway, extending from Apples Corners to West Point.

A public hearing was held earlier on the next segment scheduled for construction, from Substation to Apples Corners, and the Highway Department already has indicated contracts probably will be let by the end of the year.

Atty. Lang also announced a general meeting of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway Association, the four - county organization promoting construction of the limited access facility, will be held on Dec. 1 at Youngstown.

James Locke reported on activities of the East Liverpool Merchants Association, relating decisions made at the group's monthly meeting Oct. 6. He explained that data on a business district survey was given the merchants by Daniel Ziegler, a representative of the concern preparing East Liverpool's "master plan."

He also reported on promotions, including the Green Tag Days" sale launched today, and explained preliminary plans for the annual community Christmas program.

H. J. English, reporting for the safety committee, reported on the annual district observance of National Fire Prevention Week arranged by the committee, in which about 10 fire departments cooperated.

A report was given on a reception and tour for new teachers in East Liverpol area school districts held in mid-September.

The board received a letter from Midland school authorities requesting East Liverpool area physicians and dentists not to schedule appointments for students during school hours, explaining the practice interferes with classwork. The Chamber said the letter will be referred to the proper professional societies.

Reports also were given on the Chamber's autumn outing Oct. 7 and details were listed on the program for its fall dinner meeting Oct. 28. The speaker will be Carroll V. Hill, head of Carroll V. Hill & Associates of Pittsburgh and Columbus, the firm preparing the city "master plan."

George A. Shaw reported on activities of the Community Improvement Corp.

E. R. Chandler, executive manager, reported the 71st annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber will be held Nov. 11 at Columbus. It will be preceded Nov. 10 by an industrial development forum, also sponsored by the Ohio Chamber.

Since the local Chamber expects to be represented at both sessions, the board voted to postpone its next regular meeting until Tuesday, Nov. 17. The session normally would have fallen on Nov. 10.

Suspension Ordered For Former Tavern

The state Liquor Control Board said today at Columbus it has ordered a suspension, effective at noon next Monday, in the permit of the former Fulmer Bar, Inc., 115 E. 6th St., for alleged delinquency in payment of a sales tax assessment. The tavern has since gone out of business.

Meanwhile, a suspension ordered in a similar case in the permit held by James Sucic for a tavern on S. Ellsworth Ave., Salem, has been rescinded because the tax was paid, the board said.

Scout Dies When Auto Hits Marching Troop

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A car rammed into a troop of Boy Scouts marching along a road Tuesday night, fatally injuring one scout and hurting six others.

Thomas Daugherty, 12, of nearby Lakemont, died of a head injury about two hours later in a hospital.

Police charged the driver, Samuel C. Lingenfelter, 37, of Williamsburg, with drunk driving. The charge was made before the boy died.

Police said the accident occurred after dark.

Change Made In Wellsville Polling Place

One change has been made in the list of polling places announced today by Auditor Edgar S. Davidson of Wellsville for the Nov. 3 general election.

Residents in Precinct D of the Fourth Ward will vote at the Morgan Williams residence on Aten Ave. instead of at the home of William Robinson.

The polling places follow:

Second Ward — Precinct A, Rahter Wallpaper Store, 711 Main St., and Precinct B, fire station, 9th and Main Sts.

Third Ward — Precinct A, Junior Chamber of Commerce Hall, 1100 Center St., and Precinct B, African Methodist Episcopal Church, 1325 Center St.

Fourth Ward — Precinct A, Mt. Sinai Fire Baptized Church, 1617 Main St.; Precinct B. Council Meeting Set

SUMMITVILLE — Routine business is planned for a meeting of Council Thursday night at 8 at the Franklin Township Hall, Mayor Ernest Phillips said.

Firemen Kept Busy On Runs

City firemen were kept busy Tuesday afternoon extinguishing three fires within a period of about two hours.

At 4:24 p. m., a car owned by Herbert Givens, 215 Washington St., caught fire at 130 W. 5th St. Givens told firemen the ignition fell out as he inserted the key. This caused the wiring to short and burn.

A car owned by George Clark, 606 Northside Ave., was damaged in a fire at 5:42 p. m.

The blaze originated in the carburetor. Firemen said the air filter had vibrated loose, allowing the carburetor to backfire. The carburetor and paint on the hood were damaged.

Firemen poured more than 300 gallons of water on a grass and brush fire on the hillside at the end of Haywood St. before it was extinguished.

Firemen were summoned at 6:12 p. m. and they remained on the scene 48 minutes. It apparently was started by children playing with matches, they said.

A carton of rubbish at 110 Summit Ln., the rear of the Sears & Roebuck store, caught fire and spread to an exterior stairway yesterday morning at 8:47.

The department was notified of the blaze by the police department. The cause was undetermined.

Council Meeting Set

SUMMITVILLE — Routine business is planned for a meeting of Council Thursday night at 8 at the Franklin Township Hall, Mayor Ernest Phillips said.

Firemen Kept Busy On Runs

City firemen were kept busy Tuesday afternoon extinguishing three fires within a period of about two hours.

At 4:24 p. m., a car owned by Herbert Givens, 215 Washington St., caught fire at 130 W. 5th St. Givens told firemen the ignition fell out as he inserted the key. This caused the wiring to short and burn.

A car owned by George Clark, 606 Northside Ave., was damaged in a fire at 5:42 p. m.

The blaze originated in the carburetor. Firemen said the air filter had vibrated loose, allowing the carburetor to backfire. The carburetor and paint on the hood were damaged.

Firemen poured more than 300 gallons of water on a grass and brush fire on the hillside at the end of Haywood St. before it was extinguished.

Firemen were summoned at 6:12 p. m. and they remained on the scene 48 minutes. It apparently was started by children playing with matches, they said.

A carton of rubbish at 110 Summit Ln., the rear of the Sears & Roebuck store, caught fire and spread to an exterior stairway yesterday morning at 8:47.

The department was notified of the blaze by the police department. The cause was undetermined.

GOP Says 'Nonsensical'

Democrats 'Spy' Charge Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic charges that the Republicans paid a Democratic party employe $1,000 for supposedly confidential information have been labeled "a nonsensical story" by GOP National Chairman Dean Burch.

Burch called the story, unfolded at Democratic National Committee headquarters Tuesday, an attempt by Democratic Chairman John M. Bailey to divert attention from the Bobby Baker and Billie Sol Estes cases and the indictment of former Democratic Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts.

But Bailey said earlier in a statement: "I never thought I would see these bizarre ideas put into practice by the Republican National Committee in the midst of a presidential campaign — particularly a campaign where the Republican candidate has had so much to say about morality and ethics."

The payoff charge was leveled at the office of Wayne Phillips, assistant publicity director for the Democratic Committee. He called newsmen to his office to meet Louis Flax, a 39-year-old Teletype operator in the committee's communications center.

Then he passed out a copy of an affadavit signed by Flax and dated Oct. 12.

The gist of Flax' affadavit:

He was contacted on Sept. 28 by an unidentified caller who hinted he would be paid for turning over information on Democratic campaign plans; then he was threatened, presumably with the fact that he had a prison record which he hadn't told the Democratic party about; he met with two high ranking Republican officials, one of them executive director John Grenier.

On Oct. 1, Flax told Phillips about the contacts and a promise he had received for pay-offs. Phillips told him to string along, supplied him with some edited information and, on Oct. 2 he turned it over to Grenier. A few minutes later, he was given $1,000 in cash by an intermediary, money which he immediately banked.

From that point until Tuesday, Phillips said, carefully screened information was mailed daily to Grenier. Tuesday, he said, Flax was to make another personal delivery to Grenier, including a spurious "confidential" memo outlining President Johnson's campaign appearance plans for the next three weeks.

Flax said he planned to ask for another pay-off. He left with a yellow envelope filled with copies of messages gleaned from the Teletype wires linking national and state Democratic headquarters.

A half hour later newsmen met Flax on the street near GOP headquarters. He said he had given the envelope to Grenier but was told "when you get something hot we'll come up with some more money."

Minutes later newsmen were ushered into Grenier's office. He was seen putting Teletype copy into a yellow envelope on his desk. After reading a copy of the Flax affadavit, and being told the background of the affair, he declined comment but said he knew no one by the name of Flax.

Flax said in his affadavit that he had been told to use the alias "R. Lewis."

Before he left the Democratic office Tuesday, Flax placed several calls to the Republican committee which newsmen heard via a loudspeaker attached to the phone line. Each time he asked for Grenier. On one occasion a woman who answered said the No. 2 man in the GOP committee was out, but asked, "Mr. Lewis, is there anything I could do to help you?"

"No, I want to speak to him," Flax replied. The woman then said:

"We have been receiving the things if that was what you wanted to know."

Later, Burch commented on the incident in a press release distributed by the Republican National Committee.

After gibing at the Democrats on the Baker and Estes cases and noting that Furcolo had been indicted by a grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to arrange a bribe to the Massachusetts Governor's Council, he said:

"To divert attention from these serious events, John Bailey comes up with a nonsensical story resembling the escapade of putting a Democratic spy on the Goldwater train.

"Bailey would be serving the cause of virtue better by simply telling whether the Democratic National Committee received any part of the $25,000 kickback allegedly paid by Matt McCloskey to Bobby Baker for the 1960 Democrat campaign."

Late last month Moira O'Connor, a 23-year-old brunette, was put off Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater's campaign train in West Virginia after she was found to be distributing anti-GOP literature.

Federal Milk Marketing Plan Explained To Rotary

The Federal Milk Marketing Order of Wheeling is more or less a "clearing house" for the farmer and milk dealers in this area, and its aim is to maintain stability in a highly-competitive industry by allowing the old law of supply and demand to function, William Kidd told the Rotary Club Tuesday.

Kidd explained the role of the federal agency, which serves the Ohio Valley, in addressing the club at its noon luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

While the federal order makes no provision for production control of milk, it acts as a watchdog of prices, assuring the farmer he will receive whatever price he is entitled to at current market levels, Kidd said.

Each of the 800 dairy farmers in this area is paid the same, or at least the minimum, by the 16 milk dealers and the farmer's return is based on the average value of all milk on the entire market at the time.

Kidd explained two price classifications — whether the milk sold by the farmer is for fluid consumption, or for "hard product" like cheese, butter or ice cream. He related the October price is $4.96 per hundredweight for fluid use, or $3.20 per hundredweight for hard product.

Eighty per cent of the milk produced by dairy farmers in this area is sold for fluid consumption, he said.

Kidd's office decides only what prices will be paid the dairy farmers by dealers for their milk, not what prices the dealers will sell the products for.

Kidd pointed out his job is "to apply the rules" of the federal order and the cost of maintaining his office is borne by the milk industry through assessments.

"I apply the rules, like an umpire. The dealers send in their reports each month and tell us what they did with the milk and we set the prices. We also audit their books," he added.

Kidd explained the Federal Milk Order emerged in the early 1930's after state milk control laws failed to prove effective in overseeing trade across state boundaries. The policy at first was to "try and raise prices on everything" from the levels of the depression, Kidd said.

When this policy worked effectively only for a few years, the federal government enacted legislation in 1937 setting price controls on the law of supply and demand in the milk industry. The backbone is "classified pricing," or higher prices to the farmer for milk to be used for fluid consumption, and a lower price for milk destined for other uses.

"The milk industry is a little different from industrial goods," Kidd said. He said there is a time span in production, where the farmer produces two and three years ahead without knowledge of what the price will be at selling time, milk is highly perishable and the farmer cannot wait to sell when the market price is high, and milk production is highly seasonable —high in spring and lower in the fall and winter.

"How rapidly is the milk business being concentrated in the hands of a few big companies?" Kidd was asked. "We started in 1935 with 36 dealers, some very small, now there are 17. But there is a tendency to merge as larger companies can operate more profitably," he replied.

"Is there any arrangement in pricing to reward the farmer for producing a better grade of milk?," Kidd was asked. "The only adjustment is based on a water-fat test, but health departments and dairies have programs designed to encourage this," he replied.

The federal agency serving this area is one of 80 in the country. Kidd has been administrator of the Wheeling-Clarksburg office since 1955.

He was introduced by John Eiferd, president of Golden Star Dairy. Elmer F. Eiferd, secretary - treasurer, who was to have been program chairman, was unable to attend. Alvin T. Babb, president, presided.

Federal Milk Marketing Plan Explained To Rotary

The Federal Milk Marketing Order of Wheeling is more or less a "clearing house" for the farmer and milk dealers in this area, and its aim is to maintain stability in a highly-competitive industry by allowing the old law of supply and demand to function, William Kidd told the Rotary Club Tuesday.

Link In Freeway Set For Opening Late Next Month

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's north-south freeway will be open from downtown Cincinnati to a point near the Cuyahoga County line following official opening ceremonies the third week in November.

Wright Requests Ouster Of Zagula In State Court

A Hancock County Democratic Party factional fight in Hancock County came before the State Supreme Court a second time Tuesday at Charleston, this time on a petition to oust Edward A. Zagula as County Democratic chairman and to restore Dick Wright to the post.

The petition by Wright for an order against the State Democratic Executive Committee and Zagula was submitted to the Supreme Court without oral presentation.

In the petition, counsel for Wright gave this version of the circumstances under which he was replaced by Zagula as the party's county chairman:

A New Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee was elected in the May primary this year to take office June 1. As chairman of the outgoing committee, Wright called a June 2 meeting of the new committee. It was held at night in the County Court room of the Courthouse at New Cumberland.

An unruly crowd gathered outside the meeting room. Some persons in the crowd made "Threat of bodily harm" to Wright and some members of the new committee.

A constable acting as sergeant-at-arms was unable to keep unauthorized persons from entering the meeting, which Wright's petition said became "loud and boisterous."

Because of questions about the credentials of some of those present, Wright called for certificates of election to the new committee. No one was able to present a certificate at that time.

Wright then declared the meeting adjourned until June 11. Wright's petition said, however, that after his departure Walter Batalo of Weirton called a meeting of new committee members. They went to a janitor's room later the same night and elected Zagula as chairman.

Another meeting was held June 11 — the date to which Wright had adjourned the previous meeting — in the Circuit Courtroom at New Cumberland. This meeting elected Wright as chairman.

Zagula protested and the issue was submitted to the Board of Appeals of the State Democratic Executive Committee. It upheld the election of Zagula.

Wright's petition yesterday argued this ruling was wrong. He contended, among other things, that Batalo had been defeated in the primary for re-election to the county committee and had no authority to call the meeting held after Wright's departure June 2.

Wright's petition said he did not want to "act to the detriment of the party" and asked the Supreme Court not to consider the issues in the case until after the general election next month.

He asked that the Supreme Court then order the State Democratic Executive Committee to declare that Zagula is no longer the county chairman and to recognize Wright in his place.

Only last week the Supreme Court settled another dispute arising from the same factional fight by ordering the name of Jack Evans placed on the November ballot as the Democratic nominee for an unexpired term on the Hancock County Court. The outgoing county Democratic committee had nominated John Bryan for the term, but the new committee revoked that action and nominated Evans.

'Because It Led To White House'

Goldwater Says Johnson Fixed Baker Probe Delay

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater charged today President Johnson has forced a new delay of a Senate investigation "because Bobby Baker's affairs lead right straight into the White House itself."

And the Republican presidential nominee found himself in the middle of a lively word battle with Democrats after an off-the-cuff charge Tuesday night that the rival party was a Fascist organization that will not even allow a member to speak his mind in favor of a member of the other party.

A Democratic spokesman quickly snapped back with a charge that the Republicans were guilty of totalitarian tactics—"organized booing groups to keep the opposing point of view from being heard."

With election day less than three weeks away, Goldwater returned to the attack on the Baker case in a prepared speech. The issue he said Monday, "is hurting the President more than anything else."

As a springboard for his new charges, the Arizona Senator used the announcement Tuesday by Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., that the Senate Rules Committee, which Jordan heads, would delay its probe of Baker until after the election because of the difficulty of getting enough senators to come back to Washington to form a quorum for the committee.

The Rules Committee recently reopened its probe of the business dealings of Baker while he was secretary to Senate Democrats, a post he resigned under fire a year ago.

In his speech today, Goldwater said, "The man who now occupies the White House could, by lifting a finger, start the Bobby Baker case on its way to full exposure. Instead he is standing firmly and coldly on the side of deceit and cover-up. The man who now occupies the White House is, in effect, telling the American people to go whistle — that so long as he does not want the truth known in the Bobby Baker case, the truth will not be known."

Goldwater triggered his conflict with the Democratic party at a tumultuous rally in the Milwaukee Arena. A crowd estimated by police at 12,000 heard him in the arena, with some 5,500 others hearing him in an adjoining hall over a loudspeaker system.

Speaking of the Democratic party, Goldwater said:

"Now, ladies and gentlemen, when you build a Fascist organization like that in a free country that will not even allow a member to speak his mind in favor of a member of the other party, then I say the need for a strong Republican party, a stronger Republican party should be more and more in evidence because we must make sure that this kind of absolutism, this kind of monarchy, this kind of Fascist group never is allowed to gain a foothold in this country."

A response came quickly from the Democrats in Washington.

Wickliffe Couple Tells Of Robbery By Trio

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Wickliffe couple told police three men slipped into their suburban home early Tuesday and stole $1,200 and $15,000 in bonds.

Peter Ramaska, 67, and his wife, Magdalyn, 58, said the men tied them to their bed and conducted a 45-minute search for the loot. Ramaska said the men entered through the unlocked front door. He said he had lost the key some time ago and could not lock it.

Wright Requests Ouster Of Zagula In State Court

A Hancock County Democratic Party factional fight in Hancock County came before the State Supreme Court a second time Tuesday at Charleston, this time on a petition to oust Edward A. Zagula as County Democratic chairman and to restore Dick Wright to the post.

The petition by Wright for an order against the State Democratic Executive Committee and Zagula was submitted to the Supreme Court without oral presentation.

In the petition, counsel for Wright gave this version of the circumstances under which he was replaced by Zagula as the party's county chairman:

A New Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee was elected in the May primary this year to take office June 1. As chairman of the outgoing committee, Wright called a June 2 meeting of the new committee. It was held at night in the County Court room of the Courthouse at New Cumberland.

An unruly crowd gathered outside the meeting room. Some persons in the crowd made "Threat of bodily harm" to Wright and some members of the new committee.

A constable acting as sergeant-at-arms was unable to keep unauthorized persons from entering the meeting, which Wright's petition said became "loud and boisterous."

Because of questions about the credentials of some of those present, Wright called for certificates of election to the new committee. No one was able to present a certificate at that time.

Wright then declared the meeting adjourned until June 11. Wright's petition said, however, that after his departure Walter Batalo of Weirton called a meeting of new committee members. They went to a janitor's room later the same night and elected Zagula as chairman.

Another meeting was held June 11 — the date to which Wright had adjourned the previous meeting — in the Circuit Courtroom at New Cumberland. This meeting elected Wright as chairman.

Zagula protested and the issue was submitted to the Board of Appeals of the State Democratic Executive Committee. It upheld the election of Zagula.

Wright's petition yesterday argued this ruling was wrong. He contended, among other things, that Batalo had been defeated in the primary for re-election to the county committee and had no authority to call the meeting held after Wright's departure June 2.

Wright's petition said he did not want to "act to the detriment of the party" and asked the Supreme Court not to consider the issues in the case until after the general election next month.

He asked that the Supreme Court then order the State Democratic Executive Committee to declare that Zagula is no longer the county chairman and to recognize Wright in his place.

Only last week the Supreme Court settled another dispute arising from the same factional fight by ordering the name of Jack Evans placed on the November ballot as the Democratic nominee for an unexpired term on the Hancock County Court. The outgoing county Democratic committee had nominated John Bryan for the term, but the new committee revoked that action and nominated Evans.

'Because It Led To White House'

Goldwater Says Johnson Fixed Baker Probe Delay

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater charged today President Johnson has forced a new delay of a Senate investigation "because Bobby Baker's affairs lead right straight into the White House itself."

And the Republican presidential nominee found himself in the middle of a lively word battle with Democrats after an off-the-cuff charge Tuesday night that the rival party was "a Fascist organization that will not even allow a member to speak his mind in favor of a member of the other party."

A Democratic spokesman quickly snapped back with a charge that the Republicans were guilty of totalitarian tactics—"organized booing groups to keep the opposing point of view from being heard."

With election day less than three weeks away, Goldwater returned to the attack on the Baker case in a prepared speech. The issue he said Monday, "is hurting the President more than anything else."

As a springboard for his new charges, the Arizona Senator used the announcement Tuesday by Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., that the Senate Rules Committee, which Jordan heads, would delay its probe of Baker until after the election because of the difficulty of getting enough senators to come back to Washington to form a quorum for the committee.

The Rules Committee recently reopened its probe of the business dealings of Baker while he was secretary to Senate Democrats, a post he resigned under fire a year ago.

In his speech today, Goldwater said, "The man who now occupies the White House could, by lifting a finger, start the Bobby Baker case on its way to full exposure. Instead he is standing firmly and coldly on the side of deceit and cover-up. The man who now occupies the White House is, in effect, telling the American people to go whistle — that so long as he does not want the truth known — because Bobby Baker's case, the truth will not be known."

Goldwater triggered his conflict with the Democratic party at a tumultuous rally in the Milwaukee Arena. A crowd estimated by police at 12,000 heard him in the arena, with some 5,500 others hearing him in an adjoining hall over a loudspeaker system.

Speaking of the Democratic party, Goldwater said:

"Now, ladies and gentlemen, when you build a Fascist organization like that in a free country that will not even allow a member to speak his mind in favor of a member of the other party, then I say the need for a strong Republican party, a stronger Republican party should be more and more in evidence because we must make sure that this kind of absolutism, this kind of monarchy, this kind of Fascist group never is allowed to gain a foothold in this country."

A response came quickly from the Democrats in Washington.

Wickliffe Couple Tells Of Robbery By Trio

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Wickliffe couple told police three men slipped into their suburban home early Tuesday and stole $1,200 and $15,000 in bonds.

Peter Ramaska, 67, and his wife, Magdalyn, 58, said the men tied them to their bed and conducted a 45-minute search for the loot. Ramaska said the men entered through the unlocked front door. He said he had lost the key some time ago and could not lock it.

Johnson Carries Drive Into Three States Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson leaves today on a two-day campaign swing into New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York.

The first speech of his trip was scheduled for a shopping center near the airport at Teterboro, N.J. From there, he flies to the Wilkes-Barre — Scranton airport in Pennsylvania for an early afternoon party rally.

Then he heads for New York, where he will attend a dinner tonight honoring the memory of Alfred E. Smith.

His schdeule, as announced by the White House, has no activities listed between 1:45 p.m., when he reaches La Guardia airport, and the 8 p.m. Smith dinner. Presumably, however, he will use the time to get together with various state Democratic leaders.

The President will spend the night at the Waldorf-Astoria, leaving for upstate New York early Thursday for speeches in Rochester and Buffalo. He will return to New York City for an appearance at a Brooklyn rally and a speech Thursday night at a Liberal party rally.

The Liberal party, which exists only in New York, has endorsed Johnson.

Johnson will fly back to the White House Thursday night, but will hit the campaign trail again Friday when he goes to Ohio for speeches in Cincinnati and Dayton. After that, he heads for his home state of Texas for a series of speeches.

Except for Ohio, the five states Johnson will visit this week went Democratic in 1960.

11 Southern Governors See Their States Voting Johnson

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Eleven Southern governors say their states will turn back Republican Barry Goldwater's campaign to capture the traditionally Democratic South and will give their votes to President Johnson in next month's election.

An Associated Press survey of the 16 governors attending the 30th annual meeting of the Southern Governors Conference showed that three governors believe Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee, will carry their states.

One of these was Henry Bellmon of Oklahoma, only Republican member of the Southern Governors Conference. The others were the governors of Mississippi and Louisiana.

Governors of Virginia and Alabama would make no predictions.

Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus, the 17th member of the conference, has not appeared in San Antonio. He said earlier his state would go Democratic.

Late Tuesday, North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford became the fifth Democratic chieftain to tell newsmen that Goldwater is slipping in the South.

Delaware Gov. Elbert N. Carvel told newsmen that Delaware would cast 63 per cent of its vote for President Johnson.

Texas Gov. John Connally, Florida Gov. Farris Bryant, and Johnson said earlier that Goldwater's southern support is dwindling.

Connally said he understood President Johnson is trailing in Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi and Florida, but gaining strength every day.

In mythology, Queen Hippolyta ruled over the Amazons.

Man Takes Own Life Day Of Arraignment

EATON, Ohio (AP)—Roy Edward Guess, a 55 - year - old handyman, was found fatally shot in his gratis home Tuesday, the day he was to be arraigned on a charge of shooting with intent to kill or wound his neighbor. Authorities said Guess had been shot in the chest with a .22 caliber rifle, and the wound apparently was self-inflicted.

Guess was to be arraigned in connection with the July 27 shooting of Frank Kabler, 65, who was wounded critically in an argument. Kabler survived. Sheriff's deputy Leonard Dowelson went looking for Guess when he didn't show up in Preble County Common Pleas Court. Guess was found still alive, but died a few hours later in a Middletown hospital.

Boy, 10, Saves His 5 Brothers, Sisters In Fire

LAKEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — When spunky 10-year-old Edward McNeil saw smoke and fire curling through his home, he ran quickly for help, as his mother had told him. Then he returned to rescue his five younger brothers and sisters, as instinct told him.

The six children were alone Tuesday night in their small, one-story cottage, and one of them, 2-year-old Junior, was playing with matches.

Spotting flames, Edward dashed to the home of George Palko across the street and told the neighbor: "My house is on fire, mister, call the fire department."

But he didn't wait for help as the flames spread. By the time firemen arrived to find the house completely engulfed by fire, Edward had carried or led the children to safety.

Was Edward scared? "Uh huh," he replied.

Police were trying to locate the children's mother, Mrs. Leona Mims.

The children, meanwhile, were put up at the Alleban Hotel.

Proposed Canal Seen Key To Era Of Prosperity

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The key to a new era of prosperity in fast - growing Lake County, and to much of inland northeastern Ohio, is a proposed 120-mile canal from Lake Erie to the Ohio River, area leaders predicted here Tuesday night.

The waterway is being considered by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

"It would open the hinterlands to new development and make choice industrial sites out of land all along the canal route," said Joseph E. Sarosy, head of the Lake County Industrial Development Committee.

Sarosy and other leaders spoke at a public symposium in the Lake County courthouse.

The canal would run through the Grand River Valley to a proposed reservoir in Ashtabula County, then south through the Warren, Niles and Youngstown areas to the Ohio River at Rochester, Pa. The Lake Erie terminus is proposed near the Fairport Harbor entrance.

Woman Faces Trial

CINCINNATI (AP)—A date is to be set soon for the second-degree murder trial of Mrs. Grace Ballew, 45, who was found to be sane at a Common Pleas Court hearing Tuesday.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 14, the 288th day of 1964. There are 78 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1918, President Woodrow Wilson replied to Germany's peace offer, stating that the military supremacy of the United States and the Allies must be safeguarded, that illegal and inhuman practices must cease, and that the German government must be so altered that no one power could of its own choice destroy the peace of the world.

On this date

In 1066, William the Conqueror defeated the English in the Battle of Hastings.

In 1927, French aviators completed the first east-west nonstop flight across the South Atlantic.

In 1940, German planes pounded London.

In 1949, 11 Communists were convicted in New York City of criminal conspiracy for advocating and teaching overthrow of the U.S. government and democracy by force.

Ten years ago — A federal grand jury in New York City indicted Corliss Lamont, a wealthy author and educator, and two others, on charges of contempt of Congress for refusing to answer questions by Republican Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin.

Five years ago — President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico told the U.N. General Assembly that the United Nations must stand or fall on solving the problem of disarmament.

One year ago — Algeria charged an invasion by soldiers of Morocco in a dispute over the ill-defined border between the two countries.

GOP Election Slated

SALINEVILLE — Officers will be elected at a meeting of the Salineville Republican Club Monday night at 8 at the Salineville School. Ken Leishman, vice president, will be in charge.

3 Meetings Slated On 'Care Of Fabrics'

LISBON — Three meetings on "Care of New Fabrics" will be sponsored by the Columbiana County Co-operative Extension Service, according to Miss Ann Overturf, associate county agent in home ecoonomics. The three locations are:

East — Oct. 22, East Fairfield Methodist Church; South—Oct. 27, Highlandtown Grange, and West — Oct. 29, Winona Methodist Church.

The meetings taught by Miss Overturf will be from 1 to 3 p. m. and are open to anyone interested.

Boy, 10, Saves His 5 Brothers, Sisters In Fire

LAKEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — When spunky 10-year-old Edward McNeil saw smoke and fire curling through his home, he ran quickly for help, as his mother had told him. Then he returned to rescue his five younger brothers and sisters, as instinct told him.

The six children were alone Tuesday night in their small, one-story cottage, and one of them, 2-year-old Junior, was playing with matches.

Spotting flames, Edward dashed to the home of George Palko across the street and told the neighbor: "My house is on fire, mister, call the fire department."

But he didn't wait for help as the flames spread. By the time firemen arrived to find the house completely engulfed by fire, Edward had carried or led the children to safety.

Was Edward scared? "Uh huh," he replied.

Police were trying to locate the children's mother, Mrs. Leona Mims.

The children, meanwhile, were put up at the Alleban Hotel.

Proposed Canal Seen Key To Era Of Prosperity

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)— The key to a new era of prosperity in fast - growing Lake County, and to much of inland northeastern Ohio, is a proposed 120-mile canal from Lake Erie to the Ohio River, area leaders predicted here Tuesday night.

The waterway is being considered by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

"It would open the hinterlands to new development and make choice industrial sites out of land all along the canal route," said Joseph E. Sarosy, head of the Lake County Industrial Development Committee.

Sarosy and other leaders spoke at a public symposium in the Lake County courthouse.

The canal would run through the Grand River Valley to a proposed reservoir in Ashtabula County, then south through the Warren, Niles and Youngstown areas to the Ohio River at Rochester, Pa. The Lake Erie terminus is proposed near the Fairport Harbor entrance.

Woman Faces Trial

CINCINNATI (AP)—A date is to be set soon for the second-degree murder trial of Mrs. Grace Ballew, 45, who was found to be sane at a Common Pleas Court hearing Tuesday.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 14, the 288th day of 1964. There are 78 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1918, President Woodrow Wilson replied to Germany's peace offer, stating that the military supremacy of the United States and the Allies must be safeguarded, that illegal and inhuman practices must cease, and that the German government must be so altered that no one power could of its own choice destroy the peace of the world.

On this date

In 1066, William the Conqueror defeated the English in the Battle of Hastings.

In 1927, French aviators completed the first east-west nonstop flight across the South Atlantic.

In 1940, German planes pounded London.

In 1949, 11 Communists were convicted in New York City of criminal conspiracy for advocating and teaching overthrow of the U.S. government and democracy by force.

Ten years ago — A federal grand jury in New York City indicted Corliss Lamont, a wealthy author and educator, and two others, on charges of contempt of Congress for refusing to answer questions by Republican Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin.

Five years ago — President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico told the U.N. General Assembly that the United Nations must stand or fall on solving the problem of disarmament.

One year ago — Algeria charged an invasion by soldiers of Morocco in a dispute over the ill-defined border between the two countries.

GOP Election Slated

SALINEVILLE — Officers will be elected at a meeting of the Salineville Republican Club Monday night at 8 at the Salineville School. Ken Leishman, vice president, will be in charge.

3 Meetings Slated On 'Care Of Fabrics'

LISBON — Three meetings on "Care of New Fabrics" will be sponsored by the Columbiana County Co-operative Extension Service, according to Miss Ann Overturf, associate county agent in home ecoonomics. The three locations are:

East — Oct. 22, East Fairfield Methodist Church; South— Oct. 27, Highlandtown Grange, and West — Oct. 29, Winona Methodist Church.

The meetings taught by Miss Overturf will be from 1 to 3 p. m. and are open to anyone interested.

51 CONVENIENT LOCATIONS

No one wants to play games with their food budget! And the only gimmick that makes any sense is the true cost of what you pay at the checkout counter. Week-in and week-out Foodland never plays games with your hard-earned dollar. We're pledged to bring lower prices to your area . . . lower than Chain "A", "K" or any other chain store around. After all, someone has to pay for all the extra stamps, or contest prizes. Why should it be you? Why should it cost you more just to walk through the door at Chain "A" to purchase the same items that you could get for $2.89 less at Foodland (see box below).

Episcopalians Clear Jews Of Crucifixion

ST. LOUIS (AP) — In one of the bluntest proclamations of its kind, a major church was on record today as repudiating any special blaming of Jews, now or in the past, for Christ's crucifixion.

The action, taken by the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church, dealt with an issue that has locked Roman Catholicism's second Vatican council in prolonged discussion.

"The charge of deicide against the Jews is a tragic misunderstanding of the inner significance of the crucifixion," the Episcopal bishops declared. Deicide means "killing of God."

"Furthermore, in the dimension of faith, the Christian understands that all men are guilty of the death of Christ, for all have in some manner denied him," the bishops said.

This is standard Christian doctrine, but throughout the history of the faith, popular thinking and much church literature often has tended to point an accusing finger at Jews for Christ's death.

A similar declaration, absolving Jews of any special blame for Christ's death, was proposed last year before the Vatican council, but subsequently was altered to refer to subsequent generations of Jews.

At the current council session, however, a strong force of Roman Catholic bishops and cardinals have demanded restoration of the original position, denying that any particular blame rests on Jews of any time. The matter remains unresolved.

As the Protestant Episcopal convention went into its fourth day, its lay-clergy branch, the House of Deputies, authorized trial use of a new collection of prayers and scripture at special weekday communion services.

Grange Gives Total Of $767

The Grange gave $300 as a scholarship for an Oak Glen High School student to the Hancock County Branch of West Liberty State College, $100 to the Citizens Scholarship Foundation in East Liverpool, $25 each to the New Cumberland, Chester, Newell and Lawrenceville fire departments, $25 to the Oak Glen Band for its trip to the New York World's Fair, and various amounts to post - prom parties, retarded children's groups and baskets for shutins.

A coverdish supper was served 28 by Mrs. Eva Huff and committee. Robert Parkins, master, presided. Reports were also given by Mrs. Helen Huff, secretary, and Mrs. Jennie Mills, treasurer.

Edgar Hall of Weirton, state master, presented a program that featured a recording of the boosters speech by Hershel D. Newsom, national master, and color slides of the National Grange convention held in 1962 at Fort Wayne.

The next meeting will be Oct. 27 in the Grange Hall.

Two Firemen Injured In $150,000 Blaze

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Fire destroyed a factory at Norrab Inc. in Perry Township in about 15 minutes Tuesday night, causing damage estimated at more than $150,000. Two firemen were taken to the hospital. Their injuries were not believed to be serious.

The factory, a wood frame structure covered with sheet aluminum, was valued by the company at $50,000. I. J. Barron, secretary of the firm, said loss of machinery and stock would amount to at least $100,000. The company manufactures aluminum storm doors and windows.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: If you are brave enough to print this letter you probably will have a few thousand old maids and more than a few thousand cat lovers on your neck. My problem is our neighborhood is going to the cats.

Dogs must be on leashes, but cats are free to stalk about at will. Not only do these feline roamers make blood - chilling noises at night but the itty bitty kitties are ruining our screens in their fiendish attempts to get at the canary.

This summer the neighborhood cats killed several wrens and thrushes, scratched our granddaughter and have drastically reduced the squirrel population.

I have discussed my dismay with the neighbors and they think it's too bad the birds aren't "quick enough" to get out of Tabby's reach. Beyond that they couldn't care less.

What can we do short of setting out poison—which my husband threatens to do the next time he finds a dead thrush in our yard?—F.C.

Dear F. C.: Responsible cat owners do not allow their pets to roam around and kill wildlife. Such callousness should not be tolerated.

Tell your neighbors that any cat who turns up on your property will be considered a stray and will be turned over to the humane society. Then make good your promise.

Dear Ann: Is it possible there are people in this world who don't know alcoholism is a serious problem in some families? Do they honestly believe they are being hospitable when they press a guest to have a drink after the guest has said repeatedly he doesn't care for one?

It's bad enough when a host or hostess forces food on people after they've said, "No, thank you," but when they do this with alcohol, it's more than bad manners, it's unforgivable.

My husband is an alcoholic. He refuses to admit it but I know the terrible truth. Weeks go by and he won't touch a drop, but once he takes that first drink he is helpless. He can't stop.

Friday evening we attended a party. The host, a notorious lush, kept badgering my husband until he had "just one." Well, my husband has been drunk ever since.

Please tell people how cruel it is to force liquor on a guest. That "one drink" could send him down the lonely road forever. — WIFE OF AN ALCOHOLIC.

-:-

Dear Wife: I've said it—dozens of times — but it's worth saying again. Drinkers who pressure nondrinkers to "have just one" after they have said, "No, thank you," are not trying to be gracious. They are trying to drag nondrinkers down to their level.

Quote, Unquote

Dear Ann: The boy I am going with reads a lot. Paul can quote from Shakespeare, Shelley, Milton and Emerson and is able to come up with just the right passages at the right time.

He wins every argument because he can get one of the greats of literature to back him up no matter what side he's on. He often quotes the Bible and what can a person say to that?

Last night we were in the parlor and Paul wanted to turn off the lights. I said, "No." He came back with — "But Shelley said, 'How beautiful the night. The balmiest sign which vernal zephyrs breathe in evening's ear——'." And added, "The Bible says, 'Man's mettle is tested by toil in the darkness'."

How can I win?—STUMPED.

Dear Stumped: This is toil? Tell him the Bible also says, "Let there be light."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Legion Post 4 Plans Award Of Citations

Plans to present citations to several organizations and individuals were outlined at a meeting of American Legion Post 4 Monday night at the Siff Building.

Named to the committee to make the awards were Dan McKeever, Harold E. Taylor, Glenn Poling and George Shawke.

Purle C. Smith was appointed post chairman of the Legion's "Gifts for Yanks" program, an annual project for hospitalized veterans.

A lengthy discussion was held on new regulations for reinstatement of expired life insurance policies for veterans.

David Sakol reported for the hospital visitation committee and Rayn Cunningham, first vice commander, reported on the County Council meeting Friday in East Palestine.

Members were reminded the 10th District's fall conference Sunday in Tiltonsville.

The post also endorsed the renewal of the City Hospital levy.

Tickets were distributed for the post's Veterans' Day banquet Nov. 9 at the Travelers Hotel. Members also were urged to attend the Veterans' Day banquet of the Veterans' City Council Nov. 11.

Charles Boso, commander, presided. The next meeting will be Monday night.

Judge Absolves Woman Accused In Hit-Skip Count

Ruth Shreve, 679 Lincoln Ave., was found innocent Tuesday by Acting Municipal Judge L. W. Smith Jr. on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident on St. Clair Ave. in which a parked car was damaged slightly.

The charge was signed by Goldie Keener, 732 St. Clair Ave. She said her 1959 sedan was bumped while parked on St. Clair near Burton Alley and the offending car did not stop last Wednesday. The defendant pleaded not guilty.

However, a fine and costs totaling $41.50 were imposed on the Shreve woman on another affidavit alleging she failed to pay the penalty for 13 old parking tickets. The charge was signed by "Meter Maid" Ruby English, alleging the defendant ignored a ticket issued April 16 for a violation on a metered parking lot. Attached to the affidavit were 12 more tickets. She was penalized $10 and costs on the first ticket and $2 on each of the others.

6 Bands To Give Half-Time Show At Stanton Local

A presentation of half - time football shows by six area bands will be held Saturday night at 8 at the Stanton Local High School field at Hammondsville.

This will be the first time such a program has been presented in this area.

East Liverpool High School's Band will be featured during the performance, according to Supt. C. P. Henderson.

The bands participating and the directors are East Liverpool, Vincent Mola; Wellsville, Joseph Kaba; Southern Local, Oscar Gartrell; Jefferson Union, Allen Brown; Springfield Local, Richard Bradstreet, and Stanton Local, John Hutson.

Each band has been asked to present the best half-time show it has had up to date.

Each will be given 15 minutes. East Liverpool will be given more time.

Some 510 musicians will participate.

An admission will be charged.

Always shake or beat French dressing before serving to emulsify it; in this state the dressing does a good job of evenly coating the salad ingredients.

Parents Advised Oak Glen Band's Topcoats Arrive

New topcoats purchased for the Oak Glen High School Band have arrived, it was announced when the Band Parents met Monday night at the school near Pughtown.

The group purchased about 110 of the dark blue topcoats of military style. The cost was about $5,500 and part has been already paid.

Plans were made to sponsor a book sale Nov. 5-7 in the Rapport Building in East Liverpool, and a rummage sale Nov. 9-14 in the Ewing Building in Chester.

A scrap paper drive is continuing, and donors are to contact Bill McKnight at 387-0603. The group is also selling dishcloths and ribbon.

Legal papers from Atty. Edwin Flowers of New Cumberland were read concerning the plan to incorporate the Band Parents. Mrs. Alvin Reed, president, presided. About 25 members attended.

The next meeting will be Nov. 10.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Do you ever make dishes that call for small amounts of onion . . . and you hate to make a mess for just one tablespoon of onion? I have a trick that I have not seen in your column: I buy a large quantity of onions and run them through my grinder. Then I divide the ground onions into small amounts, like the portion I will be using in hamburgers, soups, etc. I put the little portions of onions into small plastic containers and freeze them.

This way, there is no spoilage or waste, and I get all the mess of preparing onions over at one time!

MRS. LERVOLD

Dear Heloise: Here is a tip for those who need to take temperatures often:

Cut a hole in the plastic top of an empty pill bottle (a glass bottle is heavier, therefore better).

The thermometer will always be sterile, and since the bottle can be left in the sick room, it saves many trips to the medicine chest and back.

DIANE PATCH

Dear Heloise: As the mother of five, and number six on the way . . . my ironing board is always up, and my children are always hungry! Here's how I fix sandwiches in a hurry.

I prepare a cheese sandwich as I would for grilling, wrap it securely in an aluminum foil (shiny side of the foil next to the sandwich), set my hot iron on top of it for a few minutes, then flip the foil-wrapped sandwich over and set the iron on that side for a few minutes. Presto, grilled cheese!

I do this in an assembly line process right on my ironing board, and the sandwiches are delicious.

My ironing may not be up-to-date, but at least my children get pressed sandwiches for lunch!

GAIL KEENER

I don't have five children but my ironing board was up anyhow! I fixed the sandwich and wrapped it just as you said, preheated my iron at "Cotton", set it on the sandwich for ONE minute, turned the sandwich over and put the iron on that side for ONE minute.

I opened the foil and the sandwich was a beautiful golden brown on both sides.

I washed the foil and it is ready for my next pressed sandwich.

It doesn't take as long to preheat the iron as it does for a sandwich grill, and it doesn't take as much electricity, so we are saving time and money by using the iron to make our sandwiches.

Haven't tried anything except the cheese so far but am going to try roast beef or ham next time. This is a great idea too for those who have no sandwich, grill.

HELOISE

Dear Heloise: On wash day, I launder my dark clothes first, and when they are partly dry, I take them down from the line and just roll them up . . . no sprinkling and no fading.

Then I do the white clothes and leave them out on the line as long as I like, as the sun is good for them. Sometimes I can iron them the same day if my laundry is small.

Dear Friends,
We believe we are safe in saying that the public is less informed on funeral merchandise than on any other type of business. This is only natural, as the average family's need for such information is not frequent, and it is a matter most desire to avoid.
We do believe, however, that it is to everyone's advantage to know more about modern funeral service. We welcome your visit to ask questions and secure information on the various phases of funeral service.

Judge Absolves Woman Accused In Hit-Skip Count

Ruth Shreve, 679 Lincoln Ave., was found innocent Tuesday by Acting Municipal Judge L. W. Smith Jr. on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident on St. Clair Ave. in which a parked car was damaged slightly.

The charge was signed by Goldie Keener, 732 St. Clair Ave. She said her 1959 sedan was bumped while parked on St. Clair near Burton Alley and the offending car did not stop last Wednesday. The defendant pleaded not guilty.

However, a fine and costs totaling $41.50 were imposed on the Shreve woman on another affidavit alleging she failed to pay the penalty for 13 old parking tickets. The charge was signed by "Meter Maid" Ruby English, alleging the defendant ignored a ticket issued April 16 for a violation on a metered parking lot. Attached to the affidavit were 12 more tickets. She was penalized $10 and costs on the first ticket and $2 on each of the others.

6 Bands To Give Half-Time Show At Stanton Local

A presentation of half - time football shows by six area bands will be held Saturday night at 8 at the Stanton Local High School field at Hammondsville.

This will be the first time such a program has been presented in this area.

East Liverpool High School's Band will be featured during the performance, according to Supt. C. P. Henderson.

The bands participating and the directors are East Liverpool, Vincent Mola; Wellsville, Joseph Kaba; Southern Local, Oscar Gartrell; Jefferson Union, Allen Brown; Springfield Local, Richard Bradstreet, and Stanton Local, John Hutson.

Each band has been asked to present the best half-time show it has had up to date.

Each will be given 15 minutes. East Liverpool will be given more time.

Some 510 musicians will participate.

An admission will be charged.

Always shake or beat French dressing before serving to emulsify it; in this state the dressing does a good job of evenly coating the salad ingredients.

Parents Advised Oak Glen Band's Topcoats Arrive

New topcoats purchased for the Oak Glen High School Band have arrived, it was announced when the Band Parents met Monday night at the school near Pughtown.

The group purchased about 110 of the dark blue topcoats of military style. The cost was about $5,500 and part has been already paid.

Plans were made to sponsor a book sale Nov. 5-7 in the Rapport Building in East Liverpool, and a rummage sale Nov. 9-14 in the Ewing Building in Chester.

A scrap paper drive is continuing, and donors are to contact Bill McKnight at 387-0603. The group is also selling dishcloths and ribbon.

Legal papers from Atty. Edwin Flowers of New Cumberland were read concerning the plan to incorporate the Band Parents. Mrs. Alvin Reed, president, presided. About 25 members attended.

The next meeting will be Nov. 10.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Do you ever make dishes that call for small amounts of onion . . . and you hate to make a mess for just one tablespoon of onion? I have a trick that I have not seen in your column: I buy a large quantity of onions and run them through my grinder. Then I divide the ground onions into small amounts, like the portion I will be using in hamburgers, soups, etc. I put the little portions of onions into small plastic containers and freeze them.

This way, there is no spoilage or waste, and I get all the mess of preparing onions over at one time!

MRS. LERVOLD

Dear Heloise: Here is a tip for those who need to take temperatures often:

Cut a hole in the plastic top of an empty pill bottle (a glass bottle is heavier, therefore better).

Fill the bottle with alcohol and insert the thermometer into the hole in the top.

The thermometer will always be sterile, and since the bottle can be left in the sick room, it saves many trips to the medicine chest and back.

DIANE PATCH

Dear Heloise: As the mother of five, and number six on the way . . . my ironing board is always up, and my children are always hungry! Here's how I fix sandwiches in a hurry.

I prepare a cheese sandwich as I would for grilling, wrap it securely in an aluminum foil (shiny side of the foil next to the sandwich), set my hot iron on top of it for a few minutes, then flip the foil-wrapped sandwich over and set the iron on that side for a few minutes. Presto, grilled cheese!

I do this in an assembly line process right on my ironing board, and the sandwiches are delicious.

My ironing may not be up-to-date, but at least my children get pressed sandwiches for lunch!

-:-

I don't have five children but my ironing board was up anyhow! I fixed the sandwich and wrapped it just as you said, preheated my iron at "Cotton", set it on the sandwich for ONE minute, turned the sandwich over and put the iron on that side for ONE minute.

I opened the foil and the sandwich was a beautiful golden brown on both sides.

I washed the foil and it is ready for my next pressed sandwich.

It doesn't take as long to preheat the iron as it does for a sandwich grill, and it doesn't take as much electricity, so we are saving time and money by using the iron to make our sandwiches.

Haven't tried anything except the cheese so far but am going to try roast beef or ham next time. This is a great idea too for those who have no sandwich, grill.

HELOISE

Dear Heloise: On wash day, I launder my dark clothes first, and when they are partly dry, I take them down from the line and just roll them up . . . no sprinkling and no fading.

Then I do the white clothes and leave them out on the line as long as I like, as the sun is good for them. Sometimes I can iron them the same day if my laundry is small.

Dear Friends,
We believe we are safe in saying that the public is less informed on funeral merchandise than on any other type of business. This is only natural, as the average family's need for such information is not frequent, and it is a matter most desire to avoid.
We do believe, however, that it is to everyone's advantage to know more about modern funeral service. We welcome your visit to ask questions and secure information on the various phases of funeral service.

Number In High Offices Bidding For Re-Election

NEW YORK (AP)—A number of women holding high state and national offices are bidding for re-election this year, and a great many more have jumped into the political fray for the first time.

A few of the newcomers could make political history in their respective states if they win.

In general, the lady candidates tend to voice the belief that they can do just as good a job—and maybe even better — than the menfolk.

Some unusual situations developed as the distaff division doffed aprons to battle for ballots.

In several major races it's a woman vs. woman showdown.

A 74-year-old woman is seeking a ninth term in the Massachusetts State Senate.

Men have plumb given up trying for the office of secretary of state in New Mexico.

An Iowa woman has a chance to become the first Negro to serve in her state's legislature.

In several states there isn't a single woman running for statewide or congressional office.

Among those seeking re-election are several veteran congresswomen.

One of the most prominent is Rep. Frances P. Bolton, Ohio Republican who has served since 1939. She was the first woman elected to Congress in Ohio.

Others include Reps. Katharine St. George, New York Republican first elected in 1946; Edna F. Kelly, New York Democrat who has served since 1949; Leonor K. Sullivan, Missouri Democrat who became the state's first congresswoman in 1952, and Florence P. Dwyer, New Jersey Republican first elected in 1956.

Still others are Washington state's two women representatives, Catherine May, a Republican first elected in 1958, and Julia Hansen, a Democrat who has served since 1960.

A woman candidate for the U.S. Senate this year is Genevieve Blatt, 50-year-old Pennsylvania state secretary of internal affairs and the first woman ever to hold state office in Pennsylvania. She was elected to the state office in 1954 and has been re-elected twice.

Miss Blatt, a Democrat, is running against Republican Sen. Hugh Scott. The race is expected to be close.

Another senatorial candidate is Mrs. Elly Peterson, a Republican and the first woman nominated by a major party for the post in Michigan. Her opponent is Democratic Sen. Philip Hart.

In Illinois, the fight for the 15th District congressional seat pits a woman against another woman. Republican Rep. Charlotte Reid, a 51-year-old widow who won the seat in 1962, is being opposed by Mrs. Poppy X. Mitchell, 46, a housewife making her first try for political office.

In Kentucky, the only woman running for a major office is Mrs. Frances Mills, 43-year-old Democratic nominee for Congress in the 5th District.

If elected she would be the first woman ever to represent the Democratic party as a Kentucky congresswoman. She also would be the second woman in Kentucky history to represent the state in Congress.

In Hawaii, State Sen. Patsy Mink, 36, the first woman of Japanese ancestry to be licensed to practice law there and the first to serve in the state legislature, is a Democratic candidate for Congress.

Already assured of a seat in Congress is a 55-year-old Georgia grandmother, Mrs. Janet Merritt of Americus, a Democrat. She has no Republican opponent.

The first Negro to serve in the Iowa legislature may be a woman, Mrs. Willie Stevenson Glanton, a Des Moines attorney and wife of Municipal Judge Luther Glanton. She was the first woman prosecutor in Des Moines municipal courts.

The office of secretary of state in New Mexico has been a woman's world since 1922 and it's going to stay that way at least for two more years. The current officeholder, Mrs. Alberta Miller, a Democrat, has for her opponent Miss B. Lyman, a Republican.

The candidates for the same office in South Dakota are Miss Alma Larson, 32, a Republican, and Mrs. Travis Lewis, a Democrat.

In Arizona, Mrs. Jewel Jordan, a Democrat, is running for an eighth term as state auditor with Republican Robert Hubbard as her opponent, and Mrs. Sarah Folsom, a Republican, is seeking to unseat Democrat W. W. Dick as state superintendent of public instruction.

Shrine Club Dinner Event Attracts 85

Eighty-four nobles and wives attended a coverdish dinner meeting of the East Liverpool Shrine Club Monday night at the Casting Club. Paul Taylor, president, conducted business.

Plans were reviewed for a Halloween costume dance Oct. 31 at 9 p. m. at the Casting Club. Prizes will be awarded in the costume contest, and lunch will be served. The dance is open to Shriners, Knights Templar and Scottish Rite Masons.

It was announced a dinner, floor show and dancing will highlight the "Sweetheart" fall ceremony Dec. 5 in Cleveland.

Units of Al Koran Temple are to attend the ceremonial in Parkersburg Friday and Saturday, Nov. 20-21. There will be a potentate's ball for nobles and wives, a breakfast and fashion show and tour of glass factory, and a parade in the afternoon. Hotel reservations are free to members and $5 for the women.

The program featured a talk and demonstration on "The Amazing Laser" by Don Honicky, commercial manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. Taylor and Al Ferguson screened slides of the trip to the New York World's Fair and other club events.

Rally To Be Held In Hancock For Cecil Underwood

A Hancock County rally for Cecil H. Underwood, Republican candidate for governor, will be held Oct. 22 at 7 p. m. at the Weirton Community Center, it was announced today by George Lesho of Weirton, chairman of the County GOP executive committee.

Underwood, former governor, and other Republican candidates for state offices will travel to Weirton in a bus, arriving from Warwood. Mrs. Underwood is to accompany the group.

Lesho said Republican candidates from both Hancock and Brooke are invited. Refreshments will be served. Various GOP clubs will assist with details.

Underwood and his party will remain in the city overnight and on Oct. 23 the gubernatorial candidate will talk with Weirton Steel Co. employes, and visit in New Cumberland, Pughtown, Chester and Newell. Underwood served as governor from 1956-60.

Chicago Area Youth Jury Proves Tough

HINSDALE, Ill. (AP) — Juvenile delinquents in this suburb of Chicago are learning fast that a jury of fellow teen-agers can be tougher than adult justice.

Nevertheless, every young offender, given the chance, has chosen the Youth Jury for sentencing since its inception in Hinsdale seven months ago.

By doing so, offenders can make restitution without getting a police record.

The punishments meted out by the Youth Jury are designed to induce perspiration and contrition. They usually consist of menial but constructive work — such as mowing lawns, scrubbing walls, cleaning streets or working as an orderly in a hospital or sanitarium.

"We think it's really helping. Our acts of vandalism are going down," says police Sgt. John Beukema, Hinsdale youth officer.

Magistrate Richard R. Brown attributes the success of the Youth Jury to the enthusiasm of the youngsters and community cooperation.

"It's basically self-rule. The youngsters seem to be more adept at punishing their own and more adept at accepting punishment from their own," Brown explained.

The jury does not rule on guilt or innocence. It passes sentences in cases presented to it. The sentences themselves can be increased or tempered by Brown.

The Youth Jury was proposed by a Hinsdale high school student, Greg Mertz, 17, who read about a similar system in Jacksonville, Fla. Officials of Hinsdale, a community of 16,000 west of Chicago, agreed to give it a try.

Sgt. Beukema decides which cases should go before the Youth Jury after analyzing the past record of the offender and holding a long interview with his parents.

The offenses involved include vandalism, shoplifting, petty theft and traffic violations.

Sgt. R. M. Stanley, local Air Force recruiter, said today basic training time for Air Force enlistees has been cut from eight weeks to six, effective immediately.

A battery of aptitude tests are now given each interested applicant to determine if he is best qualified in electronics, mechanics, administration or the general technical field.

Those interested in taking the test may contact the recruiter at City Hall Mondays between 1 and 4 p. m. and Wednesdays from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Bringing Up Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Study Habits Should Be Checked

As your child has been in school for several weeks, you should wish to take stock of his school success now. If he is in junior or senior high school, he may inform you of his progress, in case you often have companionable conversation with him. At home, you can observe his home study habits. Is he home practically every evening before a school day: Does he have a regular study period at home, during which he goes at his work at a reasonably early hour with no available distractions, such as TV or radio, and keep at it faithfully?

Dr. Garry Myers

Does he know what his school assignments are, or does he often telephone a friend to find out? Does he keep himself from making telephone calls during this home study period? Has he requested his friends not to phone him then? Before he sits down to do his homework, has he assembled all his needed books and other equipment, or does he "fiddle around" long and often?

—:—

HE MAY do his homework alone in his own room. Here he may be protected from outside distractions that he might have if he studied in the family's midst.

Do you know how well he uses his time? Does he have a TV set or telephone there? How does he use his time? Does he often sit and daydream or write a letter or lie down and sleep? His being there alone does not guarantee that he is studying effectively. Ask yourself similar questions about your younger school child who has school-assigned homework.

Even if your child observes a good outward appearance of home study, you will want to know how efficiently he studies. This you might ascertain in all sorts of ways. He may work long and faithfully over his books at home, sometimes too long, without getting good results from his efforts. He may be a poor reader. He may merely read words with little or no meaning.

If so, you may, if very calm and patient, help him by often reading with him his assignments, as in history, science or English, helping him to say in a few words of his own what is in each paragraph. You and he might gain some assistance from my special bulletin, "Tips for Students", (to be secured by sending a self-addressed, U. S. stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

—:—

IF YOUR child in the upper grades says he has no homework tonight, expect him to devote his home study period to reading from some other sources you approve. Guide him at regular mental activity each evening before bedtime.

As soon as your child in the early grades can read some, encourage, even require, him to read daily from sources other than his school texts or comic books, for a brief period daily.

If he's in the third, fourth or fifth grade, and is a poor reader, try to find ways to help him read better. Practicing at reading from interesting materials easier than his school books will help.

In some instances, you might wisely hire a quiet person to help him for short periods daily to read better, unless you can do this yourself calmly and patiently.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Forethought Is The Secret To Success

"How can you overcome the temptation of the moment?" A young mother in her 20s considers this the key to her problem. She writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"My overweight is constantly on my mind. I do want so very much to lose, but I can't seem to get the determination to carry me over the temptation of the moment. I think to myself that a particular favorite looks so good. . .I'll diet tomorrow. Then tomorrow brings more of the same. I'm headed for 200 pounds. Have you any suggestions that can help me to start and stay on the road to success?"

All those in this same frustrating dilemma, join us. Plan your slimming strategy.

THE KEY is to take forethought so as to remove decision making from the tug-of-will struggle with recurrent temptation. You can develop a built-in slimming system that works like a charm.

Experiment and judge results for yourself. If you really want to put an end to diet-dallying, use this technique. There is no other lasting way to live happily slim. With advance decision making, you can get your will working for you. You do not grit your teeth and try harder, for the will does not respond best to force. The way is to start thinking and believing differently.

The essence of the plan is to give purposeful forethought to the way you want to react when confronted with a tempting high calorie sweet, second helpings or party calories. When you decide in advance how you really wish to cope with a given situation, the pre-set automatically goes into effect. The plan is so effective that it seems like sheer magic.

Advance decision making is just the opposite of leaving the decision to a momentary choice, for you then must use your will as a brake to stop you from getting what you want. Know for a fact, the will does not work that way.

IT IS a mark of maturity to be willing to make advance decisions. At a time when your mind is alert and aware, definitely create in your mind a plan on any and all occasions. By making an advance decision you build a connection between the mental resolve and the act of putting the decision into practice. By this plan you harness your will to a goal.

The plan works . . . it really does. True will is inevitably linked with a goal. At a time when you are not under pressure of temptation, bid your mind to act in accordance with your heart's desire.

Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Eat to Build Leanness. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Do you know how well he uses his time? Does he have a TV set or telephone there? How does he use his time? Does he often sit and daydream or write a letter or lie down and sleep? His being there alone does not guarantee that he is studying effectively. Ask yourself similar questions about your younger school child who has school-assigned homework.

Even if your child observes a good outward appearance of home study, you will want to know how efficiently he studies. This you might ascertain in all sorts of ways. He may work long and faithfully over his books at home, sometimes too long, without getting good results from his efforts. He may be a poor reader. He may merely read words with little or no meaning.

If so, you may, if very calm and patient, help him by often reading with him his assignments, as in history, science or English, helping him to say in a few words of his own what is in each paragraph. You and he might gain some assistance from my special bulletin, "Tips for Students", (to be secured by sending a self-addressed, U. S. stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

—:—

IF YOUR child in the upper grades says he has no homework tonight, expect him to devote his home study period to reading from some other sources you approve. Guide him at regular mental activity each evening before bedtime.

As soon as your child in the early grades can read some, encourage, even require, him to read daily from sources other than his school texts or comic books, for a brief period daily.

If he's in the third, fourth or fifth grade, and is a poor reader, try to find ways to help him read better. Practicing at reading from interesting materials easier than his school books will help.

In some instances, you might wisely hire a quiet person to help him for short periods daily to read better, unless you can do this yourself calmly and patiently.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Forethought Is The Secret To Success

"How can you overcome the temptation of the moment?" A young mother in her 20s considers this the key to her problem. She writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"My overweight is constantly on my mind. I do want so very much to lose, but I can't seem to get the determination to carry me over the temptation of the moment. I think to myself that a particular favorite looks so good. . .I'll diet tomorrow. Then tomorrow brings more of the same. I'm headed for 200 pounds. Have you any suggestions that can help me to start and stay on the road to success?"

All those in this same frustrating dilemma, join us. Plan your slimming strategy.

THE KEY is to take forethought so as to remove decision making from the tug-of-will struggle with recurrent temptation. You can develop a built-in slimming system that works like a charm.

Experiment and judge results for yourself. If you really want to put an end to diet-dallying, use this technique. There is no other lasting way to live happily slim. With advance decision making, you can get your will working for you. You do not grit your teeth and try harder, for the will does not respond best to force. The way is to start thinking and believing differently.

The essence of the plan is to give purposeful forethought to the way you want to react when confronted with a tempting high calorie sweet, second helpings or party calories. When you decide in advance how you really wish to cope with a given situation, the pre-set automatically goes into effect. The plan is so effective that it seems like sheer magic.

Advance decision making is just the opposite of leaving the decision to a momentary choice, for you then must use your will as a brake to stop you from getting what you want. Know for a fact, the will does not work that way.

IT IS a mark of maturity to be willing to make advance decisions. At a time when your mind is alert and aware, definitely create in your mind a plan on any and all occasions. By making an advance decision you build a connection between the mental resolve and the act of putting the decision into practice. By this plan you harness your will to a goal.

The plan works . . . it really does. True will is inevitably linked with a goal. At a time when you are not under pressure of temptation, bid your mind to act in accordance with your heart's desire.

Morey Has Some Remarks

Nobody says "hello" to his friends along TV row these days. Instead, the standard greeting is, "Well, what do you think of the new season?"

Hal Humphrey

Most of the replies are short and sweet (or sour), but when you ask Morey Amsterdam, he turns it into a whole routine.

"Of course," says Morey, "you realize my opinions have no value. I bet on Tom Dewey and picked Germany to win the second World War.

-:-

"I ALSO was the guy who predicted the 'Beverly Hillbillies' wouldn't last 13 weeks."

Morey, who is back this season in his regular berth on the "Dick Van Dyke" series, believes most of the new comedy shows never will make it past the first season. They're too "gimmicky," he adds.

"Can you think of anybody living next door to a family like the 'Munsters'?" Morey asks. "When a girl like the one in that series is crazy about a bunch of monsters, who is the hero supposed to save her from, is what I want to know.

"AND WHERE is all of this water coming from? When I got through watching 'Baileys of of Balboa,' 'Gilligan's Island,' 'Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea' and 'Flipper,' I was on the phone to see if the TV service man could install a Dramamine container on my set. My eyes were going in and out with the tide.

"I see they're bringing back all the old wars, too. 'Broadside' and 'No Time for Sergeants' aren't so bad, but CBS is rewriting World War 1. They better get some new writers from West Point," Morey advises.

During a momentary lull of Morey's razor tongue, I asked if he was watching "Peyton Place."

-:-

"NAW, THAT'S for people who are hard of hearing. They put it on twice a week."

"But it's a different show the second time."

"It looked the same to me," says Morey.

"Have you seen 'My Living Doll' yet?"

"Yes, I did, and I predict it will sell a lot of do-it-yourself kits. Men already are rushing to the stores to buy the ideal wife," Morey replies, with perhaps a touch of sarcasm.

When he isn't before the camera playing the gag-filled writer on the "Dick Van Dyke" show, Morey is working on a book and traveling for American International, a movie company of which he is one of the vice presidents.

-:-

"THE TITLE of my book is 'Bright Sayings of My Wife,' and that's what it is, but it will take me two years to finish it," Morey reports.

"As for the movie company," Morey continues, "we make nothing but hits. 'Beach Party' and 'Bikini Beach' are ours, and now we're doing 'Pajama Party.' "

Before leaving New York for Hollywood a couple of years ago, Morey bought a parking garage in mid-Manhattan.

"I never could find a place to park in New York, so I decided to get smart, but it didn't work. I was just as bad off after I became the owner of this garage."

"How come?'

-:-

"I KEPT driving around looking for a place to park because I didn't want to take the place of a paying customer in my own place," says Morey.

"Did you hate to leave New York?"

"I'll say. The milkman we had there was in love with my wife, and he always left extra milk, free!"

A Boat-Handling 'Car' Could Prevent Trouble

By JOHN BOHANNAN

After seeing a number of needless catastrophes around the harbors this year, we've decided an enterprising boat dealer could win a lot of friends by building a peculiar automobile or go-cart to teach boat handling.

This car would have fixed front wheels, and steer by the rear wheels, exactly like a boat.

Practice should be confined to a private parking lot, with at least one high curb set up to represent a dock.

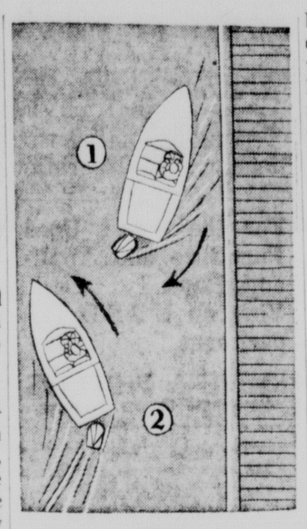
THE NEOPHYTE skipper, attempting to leave the dock in ordinary automotive fashion, would soon discover that the rear wheels were trying to ride up over the curb, just the way new boat owners bang their sterns against the dock.

He would learn that the only proper way to leave the curb would be to turn the rear wheels away from the curb and back out. This is the identical procedure he should follow in a boat, turning the rudder, the outdrive or the outboard motor away from the dock and putting the power plant in reverse.



THE EASIEST WAY to get away from a dock is to steer away from it in reverse (1) until clear, then head out in forward gear (2).

Only when well clear of the curb, the practice driver will find, should he put the car in forward speed. The same goes for a boat leaving a dock.

The analogy could be carried a bit farther by marking a course to steer around the parking lot, with certain hazards set up to represent other boats, nun and can byoys. The course should have some rather tight turns, so close attention to steering would be required to avoid striking some of the objects with the swinging rear end of the car.

AFTER DRIVING the rear - steering car for a while and clobbering some of the hazards, the new boat owner should have a much better understanding of a boat's steering pattern.

He would know that while the standard automobile will make a wide circle with the front steering wheels and a tight circle with the fixed rear wheels, a boat will do just the opposite, scribing a wide circle with the steering stern, and a small, tight circle with the bow.

Within a few hours last July I saw a new outboard runabout driven hard against the dock with her starboard quarter, followed by exactly the same maneuver by the new owner of a 48-foot deckhouse cruiser powered by a pair of 200 h.p. engine.

Damage to the outboard hull amounted to about $20, while the big boat racked up a bill of $350.

There are the unhappy moments that keep boosting insurance rates.

Maybe you'll never find a marine dealer who will go to the trouble of building a training auto with rear - wheel steering, but perhaps those of you who are just venturing into boating can remember a couple of gimmicks like: "It's the stern that turns," or "steer with your stern!"

Questions And Answers

Q. — Have any boats ever been designed for front steering?

A. — A few inboard racing hydroplanes have used bow rudders. Front steering is now the accepted practice in iceboats.

Q. — Why do most sailboats employ a tiller for steering rather than a wheel?

A. — A tiller is quicker, more responsive, and enables the skipper to "feel" the helm because rudder pressures are transmitted directly to his hand, an important factor in racing.

Bolton Attacks Administration's Deficit Spending

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP) — The national debt under the Democratic administration has been increased to $324 billion, "more than the combined debt of all other free nations of the world," Rep. Oliver P. Bolton, R-Ohio, says.

Bolton, GOP candidate for Congress-at-large, spoke here Tuesday night at a Gallia County Republican rally.

He criticized what he called "the deficit spending policies of the Johnson administration" and said: "I am unable to understand how anyone can argue that an increase in our debt today is not an additional burden which our children must face in the future."

He said federal operations ran into the red a total of more than $8 billion last year, marking an increase over the past four years of 10 per cent.

Mother May Identify

Body Found In Germany May Be Missing Ohio Girl

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—A woman from a Cleveland suburb was expected in Stuttgart today to identify jewelry and clothing believed to be that of her missing daughter.

Mrs. Marie G. Peterson of University Heights flew to Europe Monday to join the search for her daughter, Ann Marie, 22. The girl has been missing since Aug. 25 when she apparently set out to hitchhike from Munich to Paris to return home.

Rep. William Minshall of Cleveland, said Tuesday in Washington that Mrs. Peterson told American Embassy authorities in Paris that the clothes and jewelry described bore a resemblnace to those of her daughter.

The badly decomposed body of a young woman was found Sept. 24 alongside the Autobahn (superhighway) near Karlsruhe, which is 125 miles west of Paris. German police said "her clothes and everything about her were American. Otherwise there was no purse, no wallet, no identification of any kind."

"Her teeth are still in very good condition and we hope identification may be established from them," said Siegfried Knebel of the Karlsruhe Civil Police. He said the girl had been dead two months or more.

Mrs. Peterson told Minshall she last heard from Ann Marie in a letter from Munich dated Aug. 25. The girl indicated then she planned the hitchhiking trip. She was a student at the Rhode Island School of Design at Providence when she left for Rome with a group of the school's honor students Sept. 10, 1963.

Mrs. Peterson appealed to Minshall for help when her daughter failed to pick up money cabled to her in Paris Aug. 25.

After joining an archaeological group in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in July, Ann Marie traveled to Germany with friends. Mrs. Peterson said her daughter had about $20 when she left Munich for Paris.

Both Major British Parties Claiming Trend Their Way

LONDON (AP) — With Britain's general election only one day away, both major parties claimed today the trend is going their way.

The Laborites still were heavy betting favorites despite a wildcat subway strike in London that raised the public's temper.

"Of course we shall win, if we get out our full vote," Labor party leader Harold Wilson said in Liverpool. "All the signs are that there will be a big vote and a big swing to Labor."

"It looks like going more to the left," said Peter Hyett, director of the National Opinion Poll which earlier reported the Laborites and Conservatives neck and neck.

The hard-pressed Conservatives claimed that their blitz speaking campaign by more than 20 members of the government was paying off. "Things have swung our way," said Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler.

Conservative hopes were boosted by the subway strike. It is an axiom of British politics that strikes mean trouble for the Labor party, which gets its main financial support from the unions.

Wilson denounced as "intolerable" the strike staged by a minority of railmen in defiance of their union leaders. The strikers are protesting schedule cuts caused by a shortage of guards. They claim the London Transport Board could attract more workers by raising the wage scale.

Prime Minister Douglas-Home, fighting his first campaign as the Conservative party's leader, wound up his television campaign Tuesday night.

He called on Britain's 35 million voters to renew the Conservative mandate because his government has kept living standards rising and it intends to keep Britain's nuclear armory intact.

Wilson holds his final rally in Liverpool tonight. His campaign theme has been that Britain is falling behind in living standards and that the British nuclear deterrent is obsolete, expensive and an encouragement to other nations to develop their own nuclear weapons.

When Britain is ready for an election, the Common Crier mounts the steps of London's Royal Exchange and intones, "Oyez, oyez, oyez." The campaigns last about three weeks, and election day is always on Thursday.

Armco President Calls For Boost In Steel Prices

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)— Armco Steel President Logan T. Johnston said Tuesday that profit is not high enough on some steel products and prices should be increased.

"We have quite a few steel products where the margin of profit isn't as good as it should be," Johnston said.

He said the price increase is needed on some grades of plate, sheet and bar products. "Over 50 per cent of our products could stand a price increase" he added.

President Lyndon Johnson commented on Aug. 8 that a steel price increase would be a matter of "very serious concern." The Armco president said, however, that he has not conferred with anyone on a possible price hike.

"If I knew I wouldn't tell you, and since I don't know I can't tell you," he said at a news conference. Johnston's remarks about a price increase were similar to recent statements made by the heads of U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel and Inland Steel that steel prices are not high enough.

2 City Men Inducted Among 4 In County

Four men, including two from East Liverpool, left by bus Tuesday from the Columbiana County Draft Board at Lisbon for induction in the armed services at Cleveland. Four of the county's quota of eight left from other boards, according to Mrs. Elaine Griffith, clerk of Board 16.

Those leaving yesterday were Roosevelt Wetzel, 108 W. 2nd St., and Phillip Rickerd of Park Way, East Liverpool; Grant Sloan of Columbiana, and Carl Kinkle of Alliance R. D. 5.

You're The Skipper

A Boat-Handling 'Car' Could Prevent Trouble

By JOHN BOHANNAN

After seeing a number of needless catastrophes around the harbors this year, we've decided an enterprising boat dealer could win a lot of friends by building a peculiar automobile or go-cart to teach boat handling.

This car would have fixed front wheels, and steer by the rear wheels, exactly like a boat.

Practice should be confined to a private parking lot, with at least one high curb set up to represent a dock.

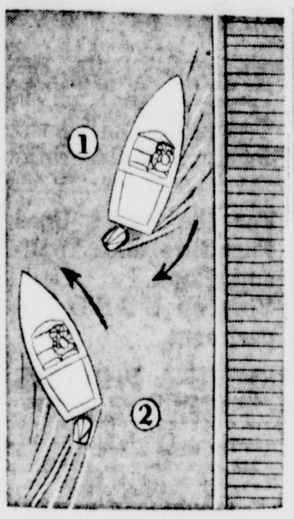
THE NEOPHYTE skipper, attempting to leave the dock in ordinary automotive fashion, would soon discover that the rear wheels were trying to ride up over the curb, just the way new boat owners bang their sterns against the dock.

He would learn that the only proper way to leave the curb would be to turn the rear wheels away from the curb and back out. This is the identical procedure he should follow in a boat, turning the rudder, the outdrive or the outboard motor away from the dock and putting the power plant in reverse.



THE EASIEST WAY to get away from a dock is to steer away from it in reverse (1) until clear, then head out in forward gear (2).

Only when well clear of the curb, the practice driver will find, should he put the car in forward speed. The same goes for a boat leaving a dock.

The analogy could be carried a bit farther by marking a course to steer around the parking lot, with certain hazards set up to represent other boats, nun and can byoys. The course should have some rather tight turns, so close attention to steering would be required to avoid striking some of the objects with the swinging rear end of the car.

AFTER DRIVING the rear-steering car for a while and clobbering some of the hazards, the new boat owner should have a much better understanding of a boat's steering pattern.

He would know that while the standard automobile will make a wide circle with the front steering wheels and a tight circle with the fixed rear wheels, a boat will do just the opposite, scribing a wide circle with the steering stern, and a small, tight circle with the bow.

Within a few hours last July I saw a new outboard runabout driven hard against the dock with her starboard quarter, followed by exactly the same maneuver by the new owner of a 48-foot deckhouse cruiser powered by a pair of 200 h.p. engine.

Damage to the outboard hull amounted to about $20, while the big boat racked up a bill of $350.

There are the unhappy moments that keep boosting insurance rates.

Maybe you'll never find a marine dealer who will go to the trouble of building a training auto with rear-wheel steering, but perhaps those of you who are just venturing into boating can remember a couple of gimmicks like: "It's the stern that turns," or "steer with your stern!"

Questions And Answers

Q. — Have any boats ever been designed for front steering?

A. — A few inboard racing hydroplanes have used bow rudders. Front steering is now the accepted practice in iceboats.

Q. — Why do most sailboats employ a tiller for steering rather than a wheel?

A. — A tiller is quicker, more responsive, and enables the skipper to "feel" the helm because rudder pressures are transmitted directly to his hand, an important factor in racing.

Bolton Attacks Administration's Deficit Spending

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP) — The national debt under the Democratic administration has been increased to $324 billion, "more than the combined debt of all other free nations of the world," Rep. Oliver P. Bolton, R-Ohio, says.

Bolton, GOP candidate for Congress-at-large, spoke here Tuesday night at a Gallia County Republican rally.

He criticized what he called "the deficit spending policies of the Johnson administration" and said: "I am unable to understand how anyone can argue that an increase in our debt today is not an additional burden which our children must face in the future."

He said federal operations ran into the red a total of more than $8 billion last year, marking an increase over the past four years of 10 per cent.

Cleveland was to be the third Ohio stop for Nixon today. He was to speak at a Republican breakfast in Toledo and at a luncheon and rally in Sandusky this afternoon.

The trip is part of Nixon's 36-state tour on behalf of the Republican presidential nominee.

Mother May Identify

Body Found In Germany May Be Missing Ohio Girl

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—A woman from a Cleveland suburb was expected in Stuttgart today to identify jewelry and clothing believed to be that of her missing daughter.

Mrs. Marie G. Peterson of University Heights flew to Europe Monday to join the search for her daughter, Ann Marie, 22. The girl has been missing since Aug. 25 when she apparently set out to hitchhike from Munich to Paris to return home.

Rep. William Minshall of Cleveland, said Tuesday in Washington that Mrs. Peterson told American Embassy authorities in Paris that the clothes and jewelry described bore a resemblnace to those of her daughter.

The badly decomposed body of a young woman was found Sept. 24 alongside the Autobahn (superhighway) near Karlsruhe, which is 125 miles west of Paris. German police said "her clothes and everything about her were American. Otherwise there was no purse, no wallet, no identification of any kind."

"Her teeth are still in very good condition and we hope identification may be established from them," said Siegfried Knebel of the Karlsruhe Civil Police. He said the girl had been dead two months or more.

Mrs. Peterson told Minshall she last heard from Ann Marie in a letter from Munich dated Aug. 25. The girl indicated then she planned the hitchhiking trip. She was a student at the Rhode Island School of Design at Providence when she left for Rome with a group of the school's honor students Sept. 10, 1963.

Mrs. Peterson appealed to Minshall for help when her daughter failed to pick up money cabled to her in Paris Aug. 25.

After joining an archaeological group in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in July, Ann Marie traveled to Germany with friends. Mrs. Peterson said her daughter had about $20 when she left Munich for Paris.

Both Major British Parties Claiming Trend Their Way

LONDON (AP) — With Britain's general election only one day away, both major parties claimed today the trend is going their way.

The Laborites still were heavy betting favorites despite a wildcat subway strike in London that raised the public's temper.

"Of course we shall win, if we get out our full vote," Labor party leader Harold Wilson said in Liverpool. "All the signs are that there will be a big vote and a big swing to Labor."

"It looks like going more to the left," said Peter Hyett, director of the National Opinion Poll which earlier reported the Laborites and Conservatives neck and neck.

The hard-pressed Conservatives claimed that their blitz speaking campaign by more than 20 members of the government was paying off. "Things have swung our way," said Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler.

Conservative hopes were boosted by the subway strike. It is an axiom of British politics that strikes mean trouble for the Labor party, which gets its main financial support from the unions.

Wilson denounced as "intolerable" the strike staged by a minority of railmen in defiance of their union leaders. The strikers are protesting schedule cuts caused by a shortage of guards. They claim the London Transport Board could attract more workers by raising the wage scale.

Prime Minister Douglas-Home, fighting his first campaign as the Conservative party's leader, wound up his television campaign Tuesday night.

He called on Britain's 35 million voters to renew the Conservative mandate because his government has kept living standards rising and it intends to keep Britain's nuclear armory intact.

Wilson holds his final rally in Liverpool tonight. His campaign theme has been that Britain is falling behind in living standards and that the British nuclear deterrent is obsolete, expensive and an encouragement to other nations to develop their own nuclear weapons.

Armco President Calls For Boost In Steel Prices

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)— Armco Steel President Logan T. Johnston said Tuesday that profit is not high enough on some steel products and prices should be increased.

"We have quite a few steel products where the margin of profit isn't as good as it should be," Johnston said.

He said the price increase is needed on some grades of plate, sheet and bar products. "Over 50 per cent of our products could stand a price increase" he added.

President Lyndon Johnson commented on Aug. 8 that a steel price increase would be a matter of "very serious concern." The Armco president said, however, that he has not conferred with anyone on a possible price hike.

"If I knew I wouldn't tell you, and since I don't know I can't tell you," he said at a news conference. Johnston's remarks about a price increase were similar to recent statements made by the heads of U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel and Inland Steel that steel prices are not high enough.

When Britain is ready for an election, the Common Crier mounts the steps of London's Royal Exchange and intones, "Oyez, oyez, oyez." The campaigns last about three weeks, and election day is always on Thursday.

We at Brown's Auto consider our cars to be of highest quality because when we buy our used cars we do not buy in volume but rather purchase every car as if it were going to be for our own personal use. We leave the balance of used cars for those dealers who buy in volume, those who have more than one lot to supply, or dealers with big overhead—we buy quality cars for you, the quality public—see our selection now!

GASOLINE ALLEY

OFF THE RECORD

"I see your house is DOG-BROKEN."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do when ink has been spilled on a furniture top?

A.—After quickly blotting up as much as you can, apply a dampened cloth to the spot and press it down firmly. Turn the cloth to a clean place, and again press it against the stain. Repeat as many times as may be necessary. Do not rub the ink in. Ink also washes off some surfaces easily.

Q.—How can I remove water stains from glasses or vases?

A.—By rubbing with vinegar, applied with a cloth, then washing well in hot water and soapsuds, rinsing with clear hot water afterwards. Dry on a clean towel, and your glassware will shine.

Q.—How can I freshen a pair of suede gloves?

A.—An emery board is an effective device for making suede gloves look fresh again. Use the fine-grained side, and rub very gently.

Q.—How can I make a filler for the cracks where wallboard or hardpressed panels join?

A.—With two parts of soft paste white lead (in oil), three parts of Spanish whiting, one part at a time. Paint the cracks first and apply the filler with a broad putty knife. Smooth off evenly, let dry, then sandpaper lightly for a nice finish.

Q.—How can I remove bluing stains from fabrics?

Q.—How can I remove perspiration odor from a man's woolen shirt?

A.—Try adding a little vinegar to the rinse water, after laundering.

Junior Editors Quiz on WEATHER

QUESTION: How does the weatherman know what's coming?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Weathermen don't guess in their predictions. Back of weather forecasting is the gathering of facts about weather from many stations all over the country—whether it is warm or cold, how hard or in what direction the wind is blowing, what the pressure of the air is like, how much humidity (water vapor) there is in the air, and so on. The U.S. Weather Bureau, through a large chain of weather stations all over the country, collects such data every hour, day and night. Summaries are sent to various Weather Bureau centers in different regins, where weather reports, forecasts and maps are made available to those who need them, such as newspapers and radio and TV stations. We haven't the space to explain about the high and low pressure areas, warm and cold fronts, etc., on which weather men make predictions, but our illustration shows a simple case of forecasting. A mass of warm air has been shown on Monday's weather map (A) moving eastward with rain (shaded area) ahead of it. Tuesday's map shows this "warm front" (dark line) still moving eastward. From his knowledge, the forecaster knows such a front probably will keep moving and sweep up northeast. He therefore predicts rain (C) for most of the eastern states, and he will be right about 85 per cent of the time.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Get used to reading the weather forecasts in your newspaper. If it has a weather map, see if you can make forecasts of your own.

★ ★ ★

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do when ink has been spilled on a furniture top?

A.—After quickly blotting up as much as you can, apply a dampened cloth to the spot and press it down firmly. Turn the cloth to a clean place, and again press it against the stain. Repeat as many times as may be necessary. Do not rub the ink in. Ink also washes off some surfaces easily.

Q.—How can I remove water stains from glasses or vases?

A.—By rubbing with vinegar, applied with a cloth, then washing well in hot water and soapsuds, rinsing with clear hot water afterwards. Dry on a clean towel, and your glassware will shine.

Q.—How can I freshen a pair of suede gloves?

A.—An emery board is an effective device for making suede gloves look fresh again. Use the fine-grained side, and rub very gently.

Q.—How can I make a filler for the cracks where wallboard or hardpressed panels join?

A.—With two parts of soft paste white lead (in oil), three parts of Spanish whiting, one part at a time. Paint the cracks first and apply the filler with a broad putty knife. Smooth off evenly, let dry, then sandpaper lightly for a nice finish.

Q.—How can I remove bluing stains from fabrics?

A.—By soaking in strong ammonia water. Or, soak in kerosene and wash with naphtha soap in tepid water.

Q.—How can I remove perspiration odor from a man's woolen shirt?

A.—Try adding a little vinegar to the rinse water, after laundering.

Junior Editors Quiz on WEATHER

QUESTION: How does the weatherman know what's coming?

ANSWER: Weathermen don't guess in their predictions. Back of weather forecasting is the gathering of facts about weather from many stations all over the country—whether it is warm or cold, how hard or in what direction the wind is blowing, what the pressure of the air is like, how much humidity (water vapor) there is in the air, and so on. The U.S. Weather Bureau, through a large chain of weather stations all over the country, collects such data every hour, day and night. Summaries are sent to various Weather Bureau centers in different regins, where weather reports, forecasts and maps are made available to those who need them, such as newspapers and radio and TV stations. We haven't the space to explain about the high and low pressure areas, warm and cold fronts, etc., on which weather men make predictions, but our illustration shows a simple case of forecasting. A mass of warm air has been shown on Monday's weather map (A) moving eastward with rain (shaded area) ahead of it. Tuesday's map shows this "warm front" (dark line) still moving eastward. From his knowledge, the forecaster knows such a front probably will keep moving and sweep up northeast. He therefore predicts rain (C) for most of the eastern states, and he will be right about 85 per cent of the time.

FOR YOU TO DO: Get used to reading the weather forecasts in your newspaper. If it has a weather map, see if you can make forecasts of your own.
